Cabinet Meets Hurriedly To Meet Peril to Gibraltar by Fortification Only 14 Miles Away.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—(AP)—France warned Spanish insurgents tonight the presence of German soldiers in Spanish Morocco would not be tolerated, and backed up the warning with her fighting forces.

One hundred thousand troops already are in French Morocco, government sources said. The French Atlantic fleet is at Casablanca.

(After a hurried cabinet meeting in London, it was announced that Britain will concentrate 90 warships in near-Spanish waters.)

France acted, official sources said, in complete accord with Great Britain. That nation was believed considering direct action following upon reports German engineers were supervising construction of a "second Gibraltar" at Ceuta—14 miles across the straits from the British naval base.

Presence of Germans in the African territory endangers "the whole French empire," foreign office circles said. If the situation becomes more menacing France will take military action to enforce provisions of the Franco-Spanish treaty of 1912, these circles said.

By its warning tonight, France recognized the government of Fascist General Francisco Franco as a de facto regime.

The foreign office announced: "It is confirmed that the French

There also will be analysis of sectional opinions.

Ready To Block Germany's Attempt to Rival Gibraltar

The 29,150-ton British battleship Royal Oak, above, is part of the Mediterranean fleet Britain is mobilizing with the home fleet to force Germany out of Spanish Morocco, where Hitler is fortifying Ceuta, only 14 miles across the straits from Gibraltar. At a hurried meeting yesterday, the British cabinet decided to support the 41-ship Mediterranean fleet with 49 units of the home fleet.

INSURGENTS BOMB BRITISH EMBASSY

Diplomat Injured and American Legation at Madrid Barely Missed.

MADRID (Saturday), Jan. 8.—(AP)—Rebel airplanes sent four incendiary bombs crashing through the roof of the British embassy Friday night and missed the American embassy by only a few yards.

Two British subjects, Captain Edmund Lane, honorary military attaché, and a Mrs. Morris were wounded. Another bomb struck the home of John Milanes, acting British consul, but he and his wife escaped injury.

Twelve 20-pound incendiary bombs were dropped in the so-called "neutral zone" where most of the embassies are located. The raid occurred shortly before midnight.

Shortly before the bombing, Civil Governor Carlos Rubiera ordered the complete evacuation of Madrid's civil population, which has withstood two months of murderous siege from land and sky. The evacuation order will remove 500,000 half-starved non-combatants from the sheltered capital.

The late attack on the diplomatic quarter followed an earlier bombing in which one missile fell near the American embassy—near enough to rattle its windows.

Casualties in the British embassy undoubtedly would have been greater had not all the staff save Lane been transferred several weeks ago to the relative safety of Valencia, temporary capital. The personnel of the United States embassy also is there, although a few Americans still live in the building.

Six bombs fell in front of the Madrid branch of the Equitable Life Assurance Company, an American corporation.

The bomb which landed near the American embassy came close to striking the building that trees and telephone posts were uprooted in the mansion's yard.

Several times within recent weeks bombs have landed in the embassy district.

Investment Trusts Regulation Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Congress received a proposal today from the securities and exchange commission to impose strict regulation upon investment trusts.

A preliminary report on the SEC investigation of such trusts said more data was needed before the form of the regulation could be drafted, but declared the need for action was apparent.

The SEC contended the $6,500,000,000 put into investment trusts by the public since 1924 depreciated $3,000,000,000 by the end of 1935.

However, better stock market prices improved the asset showing last year by an estimated amount.

The $300,763,000 of the SEC's estimate of $2,882,000 over this year's estimates for the naval and military establishments.

More Men for Army.

Larger appropriations for airplanes, ordnance and more men for the army and navy were recommended.

Calling attention to the capital ship construction activities of Britain, France, Germany and Italy, President Roosevelt said:

"If we are not to reduce our navy by obsolescence, the replacement of capital ships can no longer be deferred."

He expressed regret that naval powers had been unable to agree on further limitation of battleships.

An emphatic negative was his reply to a question whether new ship-building meant the beginning of a world naval race.

He also emphasized that the floating fortresses will replace over-age vessels now in service. Of the 15 capital ships forming the backbone of the fleet, seven already are over the prescribed 20-year age limit.

President Roosevelt said in his budget message the increase is "to provide for the increased strength of the army as directed by congress and to provide for replacement of naval vessels in accordance with existing authorizations."

To start work on the two battleships, the keels of which he ordered laid only a short time before transmitting his budget message, the President increased to $587,302,600 the original navy department estimate for 1938 of $563,996,350.

He thus matched the action of Great Britain, which began construction of two battleships after the expiration of the Washington and London naval limitation treaties on December 31. Congress authorized the President to order new battleship

PRESIDENT ORDERS 2 NEW BATTLESHIPS

Peace-Time Record Arms Appropriation of $980- 000,000 Urged by F.D.R.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt gave the go-ahead sign today for the construction of two new 35,000-ton battleships, costing $50,000,000 apiece.

He said the building activities of other sea powers had impelled the United States to follow suit.

Simultaneously he presented to congress a budget recommending a record peace-time national defense expenditure of $980,763,000 in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. Of this, $25,000,000 will be used to begin work on the dreadnaughts, which will take four years to build.

HELP IS PLEDGED FOR INSTITUTIONS AT MILLEDGEVILLE

Rivers and Legislators Promise New Deal After Inspection Tour; School Building Is Dedicated.

By L. A. FARRELL.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 8.—A new deal for the state institutions located in and around Milledgeville was assured here today following a visit to this city by Governor-elect E. D. Rivers and more than 100 members of the incoming general assembly.

Beginning with an informal session in the former Georgia state capitol which is now a part of Georgia Military College, the Governor-elect and the legislators spent the entire day here studying the situation upon which has been focused the attention of Georgia for many months. The program was climaxed with the dedication of Beeson Hall, latest addition to the Georgia State College for Women.

Mr. Rivers praised the work of Major Clark Howell, chairman of the building committee of the board of regents, and other members of the committee for their progressive work in carrying through the plans for expanding and modernizing the school.

Mr. Rivers left before the party visited the state prison farm and the training school for boys but he assured the assemblymen that any program they adopted for these institutions would be given his support.

The incoming Governor and assemblymen spent several hours at the state sanitarium before going to G. S. C. W. to dedicate Beeson Hall and all were agreed that it will require a much larger appropriation for this and the succeeding two years to put the institution on its feet.

Dr. John W. Oden, superintendent of the hospital, told the Governor-elect that new buildings must be provided and that more adequate facilities

MATTSONS APPEAL TO BOY'S KIDNAPER

Frantic Parents Seeking New Contact; Son Is Missing Twelve Days.

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 8.—(UP)—The frantic parents of 10-year-old Charles Mattson, kidnapped Tacoma schoolboy, appealed anew to the kidnaper tonight to get in touch with them so they could turn over $28,000 ransom and get back their boy.

Dr. William W. Mattson and his wife inserted a new classified advertisement in a Seattle paper, using the Mable Ann code prescribed by the kidnaper in the note he left behind December 27.

"Mable—we are still waiting. All arrangements have been carried out in accordance with instructions received. Be certain to give me information as to the whereabouts of your son. We are getting behind his situation. We are getting behind his situation. We are getting behind his situation."

Mattson said he had not heard from the kidnaper.

"I don't know any more than I did two weeks ago," he told the press which at his request had withdrawn from direct surveillance of the father and of the Mattson home.

Mattson professed to be as mystified as reporters by the sudden early morning foray made by Harold Nathan, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Forces stationed here, and four automobile loads of federal agents.

The agents rushed from their hotel suddenly at 4:30 a. m. and jumped into automobiles which were waiting at the curb. Some of the men still

Chief Executive Forecasts New Public Debt Peak Next June 30 of $35,026,000,000; Says No One Will Starve.

BETTER CONDITIONS IN BUSINESS CITED

F. D. R. Allows $1,537,123,000 for Relief Cost; Funds Requested for Rivers and Harbors.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt sent a financial accounting of the government to congress today in a message calling upon private employers to help balance the budget "completely" by absorbing the jobless.

Excepting a debt retirement item of nearly half a billion dollars, the chief executive reported that his 1938 budget "is in balance" and would continue so if later relief requirements do not exceed an estimated $1,537,123,000.

Representatives lounged in their chairs, some listening intently, others chatting and reading, as Mr. Roosevelt's budget message was read by the clerk. Only a few senators remained at their desks to hear a similar reading.

After the big volume of figures had been referred to the appropriations committee, Speaker Bankhead commented that "the budget speaks for itself," while Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Ariz., predicted the senate would go along with the President "100 per cent."

"He has given us a third promise of a balanced budget," said the ranking Republican on the house appropriations committee, Taber, of New York. "I propose to do everything possible to hold him to that promise."

After forecasting a new public debt peak next June 30 of $35,026,000,000, despite sharply increased income, the President added:

"It is my conviction that if every employer or potential employer will undertake during the next six months to give employment to persons now receiving government help, the na-

ROOSEVELT PROMISES PLANNED BUDGET IN HIS MESSAGE

NATION'S EMPLOYERS ARE URGED TO ABSORB UNEMPLOYMENT U.S.

Continuation of Relief Asked; Better Business Conditions Are Seen.

(WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's budget message to congress follows:

Budget message of the President to the congress of the United States: Pursuant to provisions of law I transmit herewith the budget of the United States government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938, together with this message, which is a part thereof. The estimates have been developed after careful analysis of the revenues, obligations and reasonable needs of the government, and I recommend appropriations for the purposes specifically detailed herein.

PART I.
The programs inaugurated during the last four years to combat the depression and to initiate many needed reforms have cost large sums of money, but the benefits obtained from them are far outweighing all their costs. We shall absorb the full benefits of those programs and shall have at the same time a balanced budget that will include provision for reduction of the public debt.

FIRST OBJECTIVE TO RESTORE PROSPERITY

The fiscal plans of the federal government for these four years have been formulated with two objectives in mind. Our first was to restore a successful economic life to the country, by providing greater employment and purchasing power for the people, by stimulating a more balanced use of our productive capacity and by increasing the national income and distributing it on a wider base of prosperity. Our second was to gain new advantages of permanent value for the American people. Both of these objectives can be accomplished under a sound financial policy.

Business conditions have shown every year since 1933 a marked improvement over the preceding years. Employment in private industry is increasing. Industrial production, factory pay rolls and farm prices have steadily risen. These gains make it possible to reduce for the fiscal year 1938 many expenditures of the federal government which the general depression made necessary. Although we must continue to spend substantial sums to provide work for those whom industry has not yet absorbed, the 1938 budget is in balance; and, except for debt retirement and relief, it will remain in balance even if later on there are included additional expenditures of as much as $1,537,123,000 for recovery and relief. We expect, moreover, that the

PLAN TO SUBMIT RELIEF MEASURES

If improvement in economic conditions continues at the present rate, to be able to submit a completely balanced budget, with full provision for meeting the statutory requirements for debt reduction.

In carrying out this policy, the American people are obtaining the benefits of economic protection of the aged and physically handicapped in being secured through the operations of the Social Security Act. Ability of the farmer to obtain a more constant livelihood has been enhanced by the enactment of legislation especially designed for that purpose. The home owner has been benefited through the financing of mortgages at reasonable rates of interest. Investors in securities are being given a larger and more certain basis for their investments. The market for corporate securities has been restored and industry has been able to finance its long-term requirements on a sound basis. The rights of labor are being materially advanced through operation of the National Labor Relations Act.

I plan to submit at an early date an estimate of appropriation for additional relief for the fiscal year 1938, which I hope will not exceed the amount of $1,537,123,000, previously mentioned. This estimate is based on the assumption that industry will co-operate in employing men and women from the relief rolls in larger numbers than during the past year. Many of those in charge of industrial management, recognizing their obligation to the nation, have turned to the jobs. Today, while it is true that in some sections of the country certain types of skilled workers are still seeking employment, it is nevertheless true that the great majority of those now receiving relief belong to the unskilled group. It is my conviction that if every employer or potential employer will undertake during the next six months to give employment to persons now receiving government help, the national budget can thereafter be kept indefinitely in balance. Without such co-operation on the part of employers, the question of a balanced budget for 1938 must of necessity remain an open one for the very good reason that this government does not propose next year, any more than during the past four years, to flow American wealth overseas.

MUST LAY GROUNDWORK OF FUTURE FISCAL POLICY

To continue the gains we are making and to accomplish in the 1938 budget the balance between receipts and expenditures in step toward the accomplishment of this purpose.

Approbation Marks Comment on Budget

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's Republican opponents today pledged their help in achieving a balanced budget, after the chief executive, submitting his annual budget message, had held out a prospect of reaching that objective in a year or two.

"Republican members of the senate will co-operate to the limit" was the innuendo comment of Senator McNary, Republican floor leader.

Representative Taber, ranking Republican member of the house appropriations committee, said the chief executive "has given us a third promise of a balanced budget." Taber added that he would "do everything possible to hold the President to that promise."

From Mr. Roosevelt's Democratic followers came enthusiastic statements of approval, tempered by a few doubts.

"It was a very encouraging message," said Chairman Harrison, of the senate finance committee. "Revenue is coming in at a very gratifying rate, well above estimates. That is due entirely to the pickup in business, coupled with the surplus corporation profit tax, which is compelling them to disgorge their dividends."

Other comment:

REPRESENTATIVE GUYER, Republican, Kansas: "A balanced budget is the proper thing, but the administration is not going to accomplish that."

REPRESENTATIVE O'CONNOR, Democrat, New York: "The President's message is a very encouraging one, but it is a long way from a balanced budget."

SENATOR THOMAS, Democrat, Utah: "This budget proves that the President has seen all along where he was heading, and that the bogey of an unbalanced budget will soon be laid to rest."

SENATOR CAPPER, Republican, Kansas: "It is important to make a serious effort to balance the budget. I hope the President's program will accomplish that."

SENATOR KING, Democrat, Utah: "Relief expenditures for 1938 should not exceed $500,000,000 or $750,000,000 at the most, instead of $1,500,000,000 as anticipated by the President."

SENATOR DUFFY, Democrat, Wisconsin: "I am very much pleased with the prospect for a balanced budget."

SENATOR GUFFEY, Democrat, Pennsylvania: "I heartily agree with the entire message."

SENATOR ASHURST, Democrat, Arizona: "The senate will go along with him 100 per cent."

SENATOR BONE, Democrat, West Virginia: "I am very much pleased with the prospect for a balanced budget."

While relief expenditures should decline with greater re-employment, the normal growth of the country naturally will result in increased costs of government. Many of the old functions and duties of government naturally cost more as the industrial and agricultural activities which they related expand in volume. The cost of new functions and duties can be substantially reduced only by curtailing the function or the duty. I propose shortly to submit to the congress a broad plan for placing the executive branch of the government on a sounder and more responsible basis of management.

Expenditures must be planned with a view to the nation's needs, and no plan of expansion of government should be authorized unless the necessity for such expansion has been definitely determined and funds are available to meet the need. If, in other words, no legislation imposes any substantial increase in expenditures either in the expansion of existing or the creation of new activities, it becomes a matter of sound policy simultaneously to provide new revenue sufficient to meet the additional cost. The success of such a policy can be assured only through the full and close co-operation of the congress and the executive. Of this co-operation I am confident.

PART II. RECOMMEND CONGRESS EXTEND REVENUE TAXES

Temporary Miscellaneous Internal Revenue Taxes—I recommend that the congress take steps by suitable legislation to extend the miscellaneous internal revenue taxes which under existing law will expire next June and July, and also to maintain the current rates of those taxes which would be reduced by the next June. I consider that the revenue from such taxes or its equivalent is necessary for the financing of the budget for 1938.

Postal Receipts—The estimates of appropriations for the postal service included in the 1938 budget are predicated upon the continuance during that fiscal year of the 3-cent postage rate for first-class mail other than for local delivery. While the government makes a profit on first-class mail, the postal service is not self-sustaining because it carries other classes of mail at a considerable loss. It should be the definite policy of the government to operate the postal service out of postal receipts, and the continuation of the 3-cent rate will be a necessary step toward the accomplishment of this purpose.

EMERGENCY EXPENSES INCLUDED IN '38 BUDGET

Expenses of Emergency Agencies. There are included in the 1938 budget, pursuant to the direction of congress at its last session, estimates of appropriations for the administrative expenses of certain emergency agencies and corporations. Such of the emergency agencies and corporations as may be continued by congress at its last session, estimates of appropriations for the administrative expenses of certain emergency agencies and corporations. Such of the emergency agencies and corporations as may be continued by congress at its last session, estimates of appropriations for the administrative expenses of certain emergency agencies and corporations.

PART III. Review of the Fiscal Years 1936 and 1937, and the Fiscal Program for 1938

This review concerns itself with the cash actually received and paid out by the treasury in the fiscal year 1936, 1937, and the fiscal program for 1938.

REVENUE—TREASURY receipts for the year ended June 30, 1936, amounted to $1,115,956,615, about $295,000,000 less than estimated at $1,410,956,615.

Summary of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Expenditures.—From present indications expenditures for the fiscal year 1937 (exclusive of expenditures for postal service) are estimated at $840,804,000. Exclusive of statutory debt retirement and adjusted compensation payments, the total expenditures will amount to $751,512,700,000, an increase over expenditures for 1936 of $709,714,000.

This amount is made up of increases of $371,192,000 on account of the social security act; $85,000,000 on account of interest on the public debt; $194,161,000 for general public works program; $123,442,000 for national defense; and $114,000,000 for the veterans' administration, $74,996,000 for the agricultural adjustment program, and $1,400,000 for the Civilian Conservation Corps.

INCREASE EXPENDITURES ON RECOVERY, RELIEF

The amount of recovery and relief expenditures has been estimated at $2,168,187,100, but there is included in this estimate a broad range of items $650,000,000 for an appropriation of $700,000,000 to be requested of congress for the purpose of carrying the Works Progress Administration program, and $1,468,187,100 for the Civilian Conservation Corps.

DEBT RETIREMENT

The amount of recovery and relief expenditures has been estimated at $2,168,187,100, but there is included in this estimate a broad range of items $650,000,000 for an appropriation of $700,000,000 to be requested of congress for the purpose of carrying the Works Progress Administration program, and $1,468,187,100 for the Civilian Conservation Corps.

(exclusive of those from postal revenues) will total $6,157,999,000, or approximately $2,325,000,000 less than is now estimated for 1937. General expenditures for regular activities amount to $5,541,968,000, as compared with $5,664,647,000 in 1937, an increase of $177,321,000. The 1937 estimate, however, contains an amount of $568,500,000 for completion of adjusted compensation payments to veterans, so that the comparable increase over 1937 is $740,821,000. For recovery and relief there is included in the expenditures for 1938 the amount of $316,051,000, which, of course, is not the full amount that will be required for relief during that year. As previously indicated, it is our present hope that the additional amount to be requested for this purpose will not exceed $1,537,123,000. Thus the total expenditure for recovery and relief during 1938 would be $1,853,154,000, or $963,000,000 less than the amount for 1937. Against this, the contribution which employers can make to this attainment.

EXPENDITURES INCLUDE $860,000,000 FOR INTEREST

The general expenditures include $860,000,000 for interest on the public debt, an increase of $25,000,000 over the amount for the present fiscal year, and $401,515,000 for statutory debt retirements, a decrease of $5,010,000. Exclusive of the service of the public debt and the payment of adjusted compensation to veterans, there is a net increase of $718,831,000 in expenditures for regular activities as compared with 1937. This increase is accounted for as follows: For increased requirements under the social security act, $436,337,000; for additional expenditures for general public works program, $132,519,000; for national defense to provide for the increased strength of the army as directed by congress and to provide for replacement of national vessels in accordance with existing authorizations, $92,882,000; for the necessary funds for the activities of the railroad retirement board and for work program, $39,568,000; and for increased needs of other activities, $17,227,000. Surplus and Public Debt.—The surplus for the fiscal year 1938, as projected in this budget, is $1,181,608,000, after providing for debt retirement. Excluding provision for debt retirement, the surplus will amount to $1,537,123,000. As has been indicated, it is hoped the additional needs for relief during the fiscal year 1938 will not require expenditure of more than this latter amount. On this basis the estimated public debt on June 30, 1938, will be about the same amount as at the close of the fiscal year 1937. This does not take into account any change which may occur in the result of the treasury policy in holding as "inactive" future acquisitions of gold.

TOTAL APPROPRIATIONS AGGREGATE $6,839,000,000

Appropriations.—The total appropriations recommended in this budget aggregate $6,839,000,000, including those for the postal service, District of Columbia, and probable supplemental items, while the appropriations already made and prospective supplemental items for the fiscal year 1937, exclusive of requirements for recovery and relief, total $6,261,000,000, an increase of $578,000,000. This increase is due to additional appropriations amounting to $309,000,000 on account of the social security act; $80,000,000 required for recovery and relief; $189,000,000 on account of departmental requirements, including the national defense. The appropriations made and contemplated for recovery and relief for 1937 total $2,215,000,000, whereas it is hoped that corresponding appropriations for 1938 will not exceed $1,537,123,000.

93,849 WORKERS IDLE AS AUTO NEGOTIATORS PRESS FOR AGREEMENT

25,326 Employees Strike in
Two Plants; Murphy
Pleased With Progress.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Jan. 8.—(P)—Unemployment in automotive plants of the strike-harassed General Motors corporation neared the 100,000 mark late today as negotiators progressed toward a meeting of company officials and representatives of the United Automobile Workers of America.

The Chevrolet Motor Company announced its year-end plant in Detroit, employing 12,500, would suspend operations at close of today's shift. The company's main plant at Flint will close at 11 p.m., throwing an additional 12,526 out of work, and its parts plant at Bay City, Mich., was to shut down, leaving 2,300 idle, bringing the total unemployment in several motors plants to 493,849.

The Buick Motor company's assembly line has been closed since Dec. 31, but other divisions announced work would be resumed Monday morning.

Pleased With Progress.
Governor Frank Murphy and federal labor department representatives pressed their conciliatory efforts, expressing satisfaction at progress made as widespread shut-downs closed a large part of General Motors corporation's automotive production plants to-night.

As he left Knudsen's office, Governor Murphy said he had been "in touch with the White House," although he had not communicated directly with President Roosevelt.

The United Automobile Workers of America drove the first strike wedge into an automobile manufacturing plant today when the "sit-down" strike at the Cadillac plant affected 4,800 workers in the Cadillac and LaSalle divisions of General Motors.

The strikes heretofore have been confined to body and parts plants, although the shortages thus produced would be undetected.

500 Others Strike.
Another "sit-down" strike, called by the mechanics' union local society of America, started in the Michigan company plant at Detroit, which employs 500 workers.

Employees of the Chevrolet Motor company forced plant here to close. President Roosevelt today urged him to use his influence to end the widespread automotive strikes and asserting that a petition signed by 83 percent of the plant's 3,600 employees expressed a desire to "continue our present method of collective bargaining."

CHURCH BODIES OFFER TO MEDIATE IN STRIKE
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(P)—The National Catholic Welfare Conference, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and the Central Conference of American Rabbis offered tonight to mediate in the automotive strike.

In telegrams to William S. Knudsen, executive vice president, General Motors Corporation, and to Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, the agencies united in saying:

"We are in accord with principles long advocated by our church organizations supporting right and social desirability of Democratic relations between employers and organized labor we earnestly hope that a national understanding may be reached quickly."

"We will be happy to extend our friendly offices."

TENTATIVE ACCORD
REACHED IN DOCK TIE-UP
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—(P)—Strikers and shipowners reached another tentative agreement today and reported "virtual accord" in two other moves to speed peace to the long tied-up west coast maritime industry.

At the same time, municipal officials and civic bodies increased their efforts toward obtaining federal intervention to end the 71-day walkout.

Twenty-three mayors and other civic authorities from San Francisco had cities met here in a move to muster

120 Fulton Murders Recorded for 1936

Five persons were indicted for murder yesterday at the first regular session of the January-February grand jury at which 17 true bills and four no bills were returned. At the last session of the November-December grand jury last week, six indictments charging murder were returned.

In an unofficial check of the court and police records it was revealed more than 120 murders were committed in Fulton county last year. The majority of these involved negroes. In Fulton superior court during 1936-37 murder cases were tried. Of this number, 18 were acquitted; 47 convicted; 6 nolle prossed and 12 entered guilty pleas.

Murder indictments returned yesterday were as follows: Ralph Benton was charged with the murder of John Jinks; G. W. Carter was indicted for the alleged murder of "Sonny Boy" Gilbert; Mozelle Hackney with the alleged fatal stabbing of Jimmie Baynes and Henry Walker with the alleged fatal cutting of Eugene Brown.

The public behind a recent appeal to President Roosevelt for action.

The new agreement perfected involved the deep sea operators and the sailors' union. Details were not given out. Presumably they involved mainly wage adjustment.

THOUSANDS OF SAILORS
TO MARCH ON CAPITAL
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(P)—Plans for a co-ordinated march of thousands of seamen from all parts of the country on Washington starting Sunday to protest against the Copeland continuing discharge book act were announced tonight by maritime strike leaders here.

The projected march was described as similar to the "bonus army" demonstration in 1932.

The strike strategy committee said that the march would be made by groups of 75 to 100 seamen, the first group leaving Baltimore Sunday, and that it was expected by the end of next week between 2,000 and 3,000 men would have converged on the capital.

SENATE MAY PROBE
STRIKEBREAKER CHARGES
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(P)—An inquiry into complaints by the United Automobile Workers that the General Motors Company has hired "professional strikebreakers" has been seriously considered by the senate committee appointed to investigate civil liberties violations.

Disclosing this today, committee investigators indicated company officials probably would be asked to testify at public hearings beginning January 14.

Administration officials, from President Roosevelt down, continued in close touch with the agitated labor situation.

BRITAIN, FRANCE ORDER
NAZIS OUT OF MOROCCO

government, having learned that barracks have been constructed in Spanish Morocco for German troops, called attention to the government-of-fact established at Burgos to stipulations of the Franco-Spanish treaty of 1912 forbidding the two powers to let foreign troops enter the territory.

Officials said the French consul at Tetuan made representations to Colonel Beigheider, former Spanish military attaché to Berlin, who now is in command of Spanish Fascist troops in Morocco.

With the French Atlantic fleet moving into Mediterranean waters for any eventuality, the consul informed the Spanish authority that France can not accept the presence of Germans in Morocco, officials here said.

"Go Any Lengths."
The consul also called attention to fortifications being constructed at Ceuta, officials said, and added that France was prepared to "go to any lengths" to protect her Moroccan possessions.

Foreign office sources asserted there now were 100,000 native and white troops in French Morocco ready for action. British circles said the French foreign office and Britain had been in almost hourly communication on the Moroccan question and found themselves in "complete agreement."

Army and navy chiefs conferred with Pierre Viot, undersecretary for North Africa, to plan strengthened Moroccan defenses.

Alphonse Gasnier-Du Parc, minister of marine, began an inspection of North African naval bases in Tunis and Algeria.

A report from the French Moroccan administrator speeded French action and brought a demand for immediate consultation by Europe's powers to halt flow of foreign men and arms to Spain.

The Moroccan advice said:

ATLANTIC COMPANY DISTRIBUTES SHARES

Class "A" Stock Is Retired;
Holders Receive B
Common Issue.

The Atlantic Company announced yesterday the culmination of an important step in its reorganization plans with the retirement of 93,000 shares of Class A preferred stock, valued at $4,500,000, and distribution of 200,000 shares of Class B common stock to more than 2,000 stockholders, most of whom are Atlantans.

The company, formerly the Atlantic Ice & Coal Company, authorized yesterday were as follows: The Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Company, at the annual stockholders' meeting last November.

The announcement, made by F. W. Beazley, president of the Atlantic company, also included figures showing an income last year of $10,278,886, an increase of $3,327,994 over 1935. The company is expected to show a profit of approximately $800,000 for 1936, including a depreciation figure of more than $400,000, according to the statement.

A fifth brewery in the southeast is being constructed by the company as a part of its expansion program.

Under the reorganization plan, the company itself is acquiring the common stock and distributing it to stockholders, giving control to that group.

German marines had reached Ceuta to direct preparations for arrival of troop transports.

German engineers were supervising construction of Ceuta fortifications to rival those of Gibraltar, 14 miles across the straits and within artillery range.

Germans had won commercial concessions in the Spanish territory, including the Mellilla iron mines.

"Our whole empire is at stake," said a foreign office spokesman. "We shall take any measures necessary to oust foreigners from Morocco. We shall not tolerate any foreign adventures there."

Officials said no direct protest had been made to Berlin. For the moment, they said, France's quarrel is with the Spanish insurgents, authorities in Morocco for permitting Germans to enter the territory in open violation of the treaty of 1912.

Sources close to the French government said that since the outbreak of the Spanish civil war France has been preparing for the possibility it would be necessary to intervene in Spanish Morocco.

They declared France and Great Britain would do their utmost to get an agreement in writing quickly to end the flow of men and munitions to Spain.

Both London and Paris are anxious, it was said in these quarters, to have the agreement in operation before January 30, the fourth anniversary of Adolf Hitler's acceptance of the German chancellorship.

On that date, say some reports, the Reichsfuehrer may turn over many of his powers to Air Minister Hermann Wilhelm Goering, who it is thought in some circles, may change German foreign policy.

In some quarters the belief was expressed that until the end of March 20, 1912, between France and the Sultan of Morocco, and the Franco-Spanish treaty of November 27, 1912, France has the right to take military action to prevent the landing of foreign troops in any part of the Sultan's domain, including Spanish Morocco.

The sultan is the nominal ruler of Morocco, but France and Spain actually administer affairs in their respective zones.

Foreign office officials refused to comment on this opinion, saying it had made no thorough study of the question.

Ray of Hope Seen.
The foreign office, however, saw a ray of hope in the German and Italian acceptance of a proposed ban on foreign volunteer enlistments in the Spanish civil war—the acceptance conditioned upon similar action by all other European nations.

Difficulties were seen, however, in carrying out the Italo-German proposal to withdraw all foreigners now engaged to prevent Spanish war on one side or the other.

It would be easy to recall volunteers who went to Spain as organized units, it was said, but the task of recalling individual soldiers scattered here and there would be far more difficult.

Troubled by the Moroccan problem, France also had to deal with Turkish threats to set up a separate government for the city of Alexandretta on the border between Turkey and the French Syrian mandate.

A French army of 30,000 men, reliable reports said, had been ordered into action to guard the mandated country, scheduled to become independent by 1939.

"Do Your Duty," Hornsby Tells Officers

TROTZKY WILL ARRIVE
AT 'NEW HOME' TODAY

Cardenas Offers Exiled Russian Leader Asylum in Mexico.

TAMPIO, Mexico, Jan. 8.—(P)—With the exiled Russian leader, Leon Trotsky, aboard, the Norwegian tanker Ruth is expected to arrive at the port of Tampico tomorrow morning.

Trotsky, accompanied by his wife, sailed from a Norwegian port December 19 for Mexico, where President Lazaro Cardenas offered him the asylum which all European nations had denied him.

A pleasant, soft-spoken Mexican army officer who spent two years in Washington on military attaché duty in Tampico tonight set the stage for the anticipated arrival of the man who once shared leadership of the Russian revolution with Nikolai Lenin.

General Jose Beltran, who was in Washington in 1931-32, and is now commander of the Tampico garrison, said ruefully:

"I shall never draw an easy breath or get a wink of sleep until he is out of town."

General Beltran said that although he would take every precaution to prevent disorders when Trotsky arrives he was afraid some 3,000 "do-nothings" would be on hand.

This English-speaking officer, who was good-naturedly resentful that Trotsky "picked this port (Tampico) instead of a thousand others," said he planned to "put every man I can lay hands on—soldiers, police, plainclothesmen—on the docks tomorrow."

"There is no feeling here either against or for Trotsky," he said, "but you had better believe the world—and I must be prepared."

Radical labor organizations have threatened to stage hostile demonstrations when Trotsky lands.

"The expected increase in revenue and decrease in expenditures for relief will reflect the general improvement which has taken place in the general economic conditions of the country."

The projected $1,405,456,000 upturn in receipts over the current year to $2,039,670,000 would result in an anticipated 41 per cent gain in income tax collections.

The President said the 1936 revenue act "gives every indication of satisfactory accomplishment" of its purposes. These aims were listed as replacement of revenue lost through processing tax invalidation, amortization of the bonus and equalization of tax burdens.

On the expenditure side, the budget provided $5,811,988,000 for regular government operations. This would be $4,821,000 higher than the estimate for this year if bonus outlays were exempted.

Increase Costs Cited.
The boost was attributed to increased cost of living requirements, additional expenditures for general public works and greater spending for national defense. The national defense item included funds for starting construction of two new battleships.

With the $1,537,123,000 work relief outlay, aggregate expenditures for "recovery and relief" next year would total $1,535,154,000, or $663,003,000 over this year's estimate.

If spending were held to the estimates, the administration would borrow no new money in 1937-38.

For this year, the public debt will rise $1,248,000,000, only partially reflecting a gross debt of $2,652,634,000. The difference was accounted for by deduction of debt retirements from the gross deficit and the use of $900,000,000 from the treasury's cash balance for deficit financing.

The debt estimates did not take into account treasury borrowing to carry out its gold "sterilization" program—a policy recently inaugurated to lessen the inflation possibilities in gold imports.

Icy Streets Due Here Tomorrow;
Few Influenza Cases Reported
A possibility of icy streets in Atlanta tonight and tomorrow were predicted by weather forecasters. The Atlanta Health Department yesterday reported fewer cases of influenza this year than for the same period last year and the year before.

While other population centers of the country reported large numbers of influenza cases, the department here reported only eight cases have been reported for the first week of the new year, comparing with 27 cases in 1936 and 245 in 1935.

The weather prospect today is for continued rain and mist, much like yesterday's weather, with temperatures due to start at 45 degrees this morning. Due to cold coming from the west, the mercury may drop to 30 degrees, or below the freezing mark tonight and tomorrow.

Forecasters at Candler airport weather bureau said the "wall of cold" was proceeding slowly in this direction, but that it actually reached here, it would be difficult to predict if an ice-storm similar to the one which caused great damage here last winter would occur.

TROTZKY WILL ARRIVE AT 'NEW HOME' TODAY

Cardenas Offers Exiled Russian Leader Asylum in Mexico.

TAMPIO, Mexico, Jan. 8.—(P)—With the exiled Russian leader, Leon Trotsky, aboard, the Norwegian tanker Ruth is expected to arrive at the port of Tampico tomorrow morning.

Trotsky, accompanied by his wife, sailed from a Norwegian port December 19 for Mexico, where President Lazaro Cardenas offered him the asylum which all European nations had denied him.

A pleasant, soft-spoken Mexican army officer who spent two years in Washington on military attaché duty in Tampico tonight set the stage for the anticipated arrival of the man who once shared leadership of the Russian revolution with Nikolai Lenin.

General Jose Beltran, who was in Washington in 1931-32, and is now commander of the Tampico garrison, said ruefully:

"I shall never draw an easy breath or get a wink of sleep until he is out of town."

General Beltran said that although he would take every precaution to prevent disorders when Trotsky arrives he was afraid some 3,000 "do-nothings" would be on hand.

This English-speaking officer, who was good-naturedly resentful that Trotsky "picked this port (Tampico) instead of a thousand others," said he planned to "put every man I can lay hands on—soldiers, police, plainclothesmen—on the docks tomorrow."

"There is no feeling here either against or for Trotsky," he said, "but you had better believe the world—and I must be prepared."

White Lilacs Bloom In New York Garden

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 8.—(P)—White lilacs bloomed today in the Glenn E. Thompson's garden. The temperature stood at 92 degrees, four less than the record for the date, set in 1932.

Ice was completely gone from Chautauqua lake.

Meanwhile, the thermometer at Buffalo rose 155 degrees, the highest mark ever reached there on the date. Meteorologist James H. Spencer said the previous high mark was 52 degrees on January 8, 1936.

CONGRESS MAY REVISE POWERS OF U.S. COURTS

Law Providing for Impeachment of Judges May Be Amended.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—(P)—A group of bills to revise the powers of federal courts, some of them pointed at the supreme court itself went into the house hopper today.

Representative Sumners, Democrat, Texas, chairman of the house judiciary committee, proposed a new method of removing federal district judges. The house could notify the chief justice when it deemed the actions of a federal judge warranted his removal. The chief justice then would appoint three federal circuit judges to pass on removal.

At present judges can be removed only after impeachment in the house and trial in the senate.

Representative Faddis, Democrat, Pennsylvania, introduced a bill providing that neither the supreme court nor any other federal court should pass on the constitutionality of an act of congress.

Representative Walter, Democrat, Pennsylvania, proposed to require a two-thirds vote of the supreme court to invalidate a law.

A bill to set up a new administrative court, to handle all cases against the government, was introduced by Representative Celler, Democrat, New York. A similar measure has been introduced in the senate by Senator Logan, Democrat, Kentucky.

MATTSONS APPEALING TO KIDNAPER OF SON

They were dressing as they emerged from their quarters.

The automobiles left in a group for an undisclosed destination.

It was believed they headed for the Olympic-Shelton area where last Sunday night two men approached a sawmill watchman and instructed him to tell Dr. Mattson personally "all is well."

The agents refused explanations on their return but indicated the expedition had been fruitless.

Mattson appeared tired and wan as the case reached the end of its 12th day since Charles' abduction.

The physician's discouragement was reflected in the fearful attitude of family friends, who previously had been confident Charles soon would be home.

It was learned that Dr. Mattson had been certain that he would hear from the kidnaper within 10 days and the prolonged silence was said to have contributed to his anxiety and discouragement.

ASSEMBLY EXPECTED TO VOTE OUSTER PAY

Hamilton Confident He'll Get Full Salary for Time
Out of Office.

George B. Hamilton, who will resume his office as state treasurer Tuesday, said yesterday he believes the state legislature will award him full salary for the time he has been out of office.

Hamilton said he was due approximately $5,000 for the period beginning last February 24, when he was ousted by Governor Talmadge, until January 12 when he will take office again.

William B. Harrison who, as comptroller general, was ousted by Hamilton when they refused to pay out state funds without an appropriations bill, will also resume his old duties Tuesday. Harrison said yesterday he would announce his plans later.

It was understood, however, the legislature will also consider payment of approximately $5,410 to Harrison for back salary.

The treasurer's annual salary is $6,000, the comptroller general's $6,500. Hamilton and Harrison were re-elected in the last general election. They will succeed the Talmadge-appointed Comptroller General Homer Parker and Treasurer J. B. "Tobe" Daniel.

The law requires the Governor to report to the legislature on the ousters and that the general assembly decide whether there were sufficient grounds for their removal.

Hamilton said the state law does not make provision for payment of back salaries to Horace Hixon, assistant treasurer; Harvey Jones, a clerk; and Miss Estelle Tootle, his secretary, the three employees of the treasurer's office who quit when he was ousted.

HUGE BOOM IN TRADE THROUGHOUT GEORGIA PREDICTED BY RIVERS

Governor-Elect, Speaking at Elberton, Pledges Co-operation With U. S.

By L. A. FARRELL.
ELBERTON, Ga., Jan. 8.—A wide-spread business boom has been brought about by the re-election of President Roosevelt and Georgia's re-election that it wants full co-operation with the program of the national administration, Governor-elect Rivers declared here tonight in an address which featured the annual dinner of the Elberton Chamber of Commerce.

"No doubt that you noticed a slight upturn in business over the state shortly after the ninth of September," the Governor-elect said. "But it was nothing in comparison with the way things have boomed in Georgia since the general election."

"The people of our state all along wanted full co-operation between the state and the national administration, and once it was assured business stepped right out. Now that the New Deal for Georgia is about to become an actuality I am sure that we will see a great revival in all lines of trade."

Elberton Praised.
The Governor-elect praised the people of Elberton and the county for "your fine forward-looking spirit which is typical of the new day in Georgia."

"Everywhere I go I am assured of the whole-hearted support of the people of our state," he declared. "Next Tuesday will be an important day in the history of Georgia. It will bring us upon an era of prosperity which I believe will be felt by all of the people, rich and poor."

Mr. Rivers spoke on the same program with Commissioner of Agriculture Columbus Roberts, State Treasurer George B. Hamilton and others. The Governor-elect was introduced by Clark Edwards, ordinary of Elberton county, a long-time friend. Business and professional leaders of this entire section were included among the guests at tonight's dinner which is an annual event. Included among those present were officials of the Seaboard Air Line railroad which serves Elberton, connecting it with Athens, Atlanta and other important Georgia cities.

After installation of G. T. Christian, editor of the Elberton Star, as the new president, Commissioner Roberts was called on and in his remarks called for the co-operation of all organizations and individuals with the Department of Agriculture that the best might be done for the rural people.

About 400 were present. Among the guests were Adjutant General John Stoddard, Commissioner Zach Cravay, Judge John B. Guerrier, J. Sherard Kennedy, Alva G. Maxwell, Charlie Cox, United States marshal; State Treasurer Hamilton and President H. W. Caldwell, of the University of Georgia. Governor Rivers was accompanied by Mrs. Rivers and Mrs. Kathleen Hogan, of Temple, Ga., and Secretary Musgrove.

HELP IS PROMISED STATE INSTITUTIONS

must be placed in the buildings now established here.

Mr. Rivers assured the superintendent that the hospital which he considers long needed would receive favorable consideration when the assembly meets.

It is known the governor-elect hopes to get a special appropriation of $1,000,000 through the assembly, making it payable over a three-year period, and providing a fund equal to that provided last year for the board of regents of the university system. He also hopes to have the federal government match this fund with an additional $1,000,000 and provide needed buildings for the hospital here and for other institutions now under the state board of control.

There is some talk among members of the general assembly of abolishing the board and putting its medical units under the board of health and its non-medical units under a newly organized state department of public welfare, but regardless of the change in the management of the institutions the improvements are sorely needed.

Two Addresses.
Mr. Rivers made two addresses here, the first at the old capital where he addressed an impromptu session of the assembly and the second in dedicating the new hall.

Senator J. Howard Frank, of Milledgeville, presided over the session at which Marion H. Allen, of this city, and Senator Paul L. Lindsay, of Decatur, also spoke.

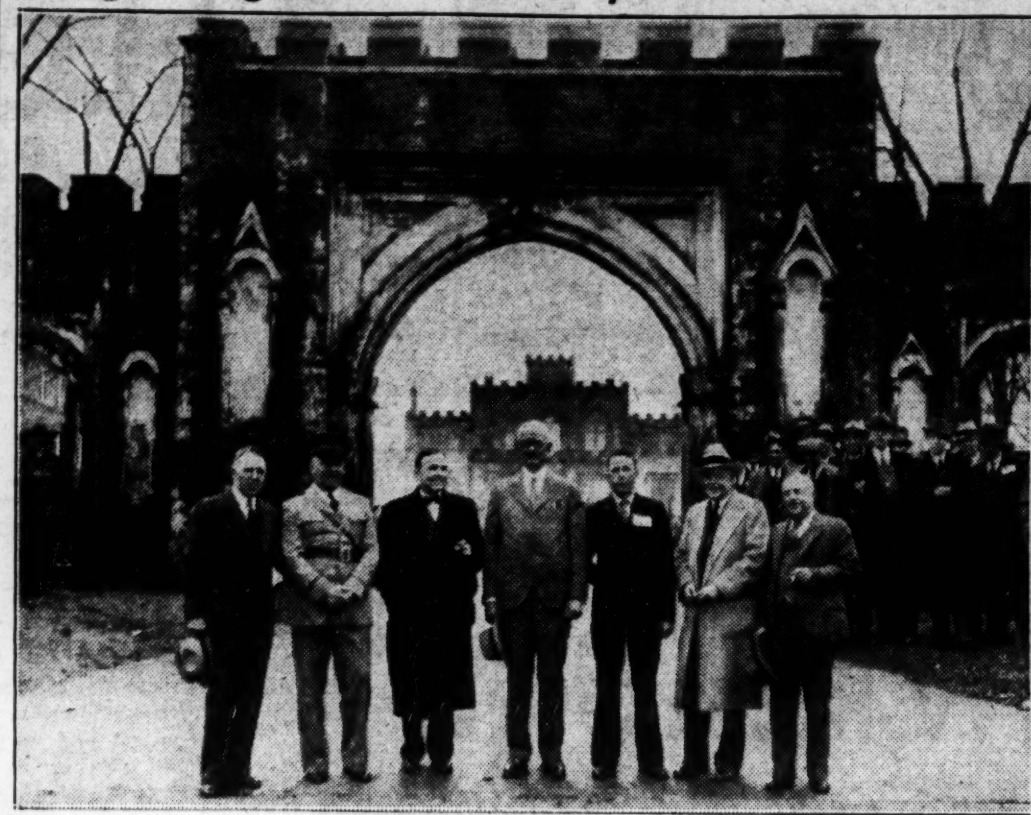

In his address to the legislators, Mr. Rivers said he expected to leave his chief remarks for his inaugural address, but he did say he believed that now is the time for the south to retain the glory and economic prestige it lost as a result of federal occupation following the War Between the States.

"For the first time since the Civil War, the south is in the saddle," the Governor-elect declared. "We have a part-time southerner in the White House, a southerner in John Garner, president over the United States senate and another in the person of Speaker Rankin presiding over the house. In addition the floor leaders of both branches, Mr. Robinson in the senate and Mr. Rayburn in the house both are distinguished sons of the south. I feel that the south now should restore itself to the high plane it was on before the War Between the States."

Mr. Rivers said he expected Georgia to go forward rapidly under the program of close cooperation between the state and federal government he anticipates for his administration.

Mr. Rivers appeared deeply im-

Georgia Legislators Hold Optimistic "Session" at Milledgeville as School Dormitory Is Dedicated

Georgia legislative leaders met with other prominent state figures yesterday in an "unofficial" legislative session at the old state capitol building at Milledgeville in an optimistic discussion of state affairs. Shown above, left to right, are Dr. Guy Wells, president of the Georgia State College for Women; Colonel James H. Jenkins, president of Georgia Military Academy; Governor-elect E. D. Rivers; Captain J. H. Ennis, state senator from Baldwin county; Marion Ennis, representative from Baldwin county; Marion Allen, FHA director for Georgia, and Dr. John W. Oden, superintendent of the state sanitarium at Milledgeville.

Solons Will Name Wyche to Judgeship

FLORENCE, S. C., Jan. 8.—(AP) Senator E. D. Smith yesterday night that he and Senator James F. Byrnes had agreed to recommend Cecil Wyche of Spartanburg for federal judge of the western district of South Carolina to succeed Judge H. H. Watkins, retired.

At the same time Smith made public a telegram to the attorney general saying he and Byrnes also had agreed that Oscar Doyle of Anderson should succeed Wyche as district attorney.

pressed by the crowded conditions at the hospital as did other members of the capital party.

"I knew that conditions were bad here," the Governor-elect declared, "but no one can imagine just how terrible they are until they go through the institution and see it as I have seen it today."

Mrs. William T. Healey, of Atlanta, the chairman of the board of control, was here and went through the institution with the Governor-elect and Dr. Oden.

Doctors Doing Best.
"I feel that we have done well enough with what we have had to spend on this institution," Mrs. Healey said. "I think that the doctors and nurses here are doing the best they can under the circumstances, but unless something is done to add to the board's appropriation conditions cannot be improved."

The Governor-elect and members of his party were guests of Dr. Guy H. Wells and Mrs. Wells at a luncheon at GSCW.

The luncheon was served in the dining room at the college with pretty students acting as waitresses. The Governor-elect pledged his administration to work for higher salaries for school teachers, in his address dedicating the J. L. Beeson dormitory at G. S. C. W.

"You may look forward confidently to higher salaries for teachers," he said. "This administration is pledged to higher salaries."

"I believe, too, that we should make a start towards a teachers' retirement fund. It is time that we took care of our educators not only for the present in the pay they receive, but for the later years they will need security."

Rivers, citing the attendance here of legislators at their own expense and their presence at conferences in Atlanta last fall to work on an administrative program, said:

"Any general assembly that will devote as much time and expense to planning its work should have the common sense of the people. This will give them a better heart to go about their work."

At the dedicatory exercises, Bell, chairman of the building committee, said that he gladly accepted this building which was named in honor of President-elect J. L. Beeson.

Support of Education.
Mr. Rivers said: "I wish to emphasize on this occasion that the incoming state administration is committed notably, aggressively and emphatically to a program of expansion and adequate support of the educational system of Georgia from the kindergarten through the university. I believe that this institution and the other institutions in this state may have cause for hope as the result of the meeting of the incoming session of the general assembly."

Chancellor S. V. Sanford, of the University system, answered: "I refuse and shall always refuse to state that there are two systems of education in Georgia—the higher institutions and the public schools. There is but one system of education—from the kindergarten through the university. The regents, the chancellor, the heads of the institutions and the members of the faculty have seen a greater dawn for this University system as a socializing and integrating force reaching into every city, town, hamlet and rural section of this state."

The building was financed with funds derived from the Public Works Administration and the state on a 45-55 basis. The building cost approximately $80,000 and will accommodate more than 150 students.

Another new educational building was dedicated in Georgia yesterday, one of nearly a score built through co-operation between the state and federal governments. The groups shown above at exercises dedicating the new J. L. Beeson dormitory at the Georgia State College for Women, at Milledgeville, includes, left to right: Dr. Guy Wells, president of G. S. C. FRANK'S OUSTER IS HIT BY STUDENT STRIKERS

1,000 March to La Follette Who Defends Regents, Blames Politics.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 8.—(AP) Governor Philip F. La Follette called the police to quell clamoring students from his office today and bluntly rejected their demand for Dr. Glenn Frank's reinstatement to the University of Wisconsin presidency.

Ignoring jeers, boos and cries of "We want Frank," from 1,000 striking students who marched upon the capitol, the young leader of the Progressive party denied politics dictated Frank's ouster last night by the La Follette-controlled university board of regents.

The Governor expressed himself plainly, however, concerning Frank's position in the university. In a published statement he said he has long been convinced conscientious regents would be warranted in concluding Frank's retention was not in the university's best interests.

As evidence of his stand in the Frank dispute he offered to the students—who broke up press conference at his office—correspondence in which he had asked Dr. James Conant, president of Harvard University, to make a disinterested inquiry into the case.

La Follette said Dr. Conant refused. Declaring that during previous administrations no one ever raised a question of the university's honor, he charged his own enemies with playing politics with the institution, and using it as a weapon to attack him while in office.

The Governor was explaining his position in the Frank case to newspapermen, when suddenly his office was filled with students who had called for a general strike on the campus and then marched down hill to invade the Governor's chambers in the capitol.

Cheers and boos rose from the throng as it reached the capitol. A section of the parade pushed into the main offices of the executive suite. Some demonstrators pounded on the door.

Twelve Madison policemen were summoned to quell the disorder after the normal capitol force of six had failed.

Gathering students into line until one-tenth of the 10,000 enrollment was represented, the demonstrators marched from the campus "hill" down State street to the white marble capitol.

Diver Hero of S-4 Submarine Rescue Fears Flying, Likes His 'Safe' Job

You Can Dodge Sharks, He Says, But No More Planes!

By LEE ROGERS.

It's all a myth—this tale about divers being perilled by sea animals. You have this from no less authority than Edwin Barber, famous deep-sea diver, who helped rescue the 32 men from the sunken submarine S-4.

"There is not a fish that will hurt you," he says. "And any stories you have read to the contrary are ho-kum."

Barber arrived in Atlanta yesterday from Key West, where he is stationed this winter, to see his mother, who is visiting at the home of a brother, Lee Barber, of 300 North Highland avenue.

He flew up to save time and the plane on which he was a passenger was forced down yesterday afternoon in a cornfield 20 miles from Macon.

"You can have the air—I prefer a job which is safe," he emphasized. Asked if there was any job that had appealed to him more than diving, he replied, "Yeah, I'm now studying to be an aviator." Sarcasm filled the room.

He Doesn't Fear Sharks.
Barber explained sharks need not be feared, as the shark's nose is so long it cannot harm the diver if he lies on the bottom. Only two fish ever give trouble and those are porpoises and green moray eels, which are six feet long and stand erect on their tails.

"The porpoise is a friendly fish and whenever they are around you can rest assured there are no sharks in the vicinity," he said, "but they act much like a pet dog, running around you so much that they sometimes accidentally break your telephone, air, or life lines. The presence of the green eel is difficult to detect. It is capable of charging the water with 1,000 volts of electricity and if the metal of your diving suit comes in contact with the eel it is too bad. The only thing to do, when you first feel the tingle in your fingers, is to shoot for the top."

Barber considers the outstanding event in his 10 years as a diver, since graduating from the only diving school in the world—that maintained by the United States navy at Newport, R. I.—was the rescuing of the 32 men trapped in the sunken S-4.

Rescue From Sub.
Iron-lungs were shot into the submarine, which was rammed by the U. S. S. Paulding, through the torpedo tubes. Each of the 32 men put these on and then a large hole was cut in the hull by the divers. Barber and a companion diver entered the sub and passed the men out to the top, where they were immediately put into decompression chambers.

"That was the greatest thrill, getting those men out alive," he declared. Chapman & Scott Submarine Salvage Company, was in charge of that company's divers who worked to raise the S-4, which was sunk in a collision with the S. S. City of Rome. Two months were required to raise this sub which rested on a ledge from 150 to 120 feet below sea level. At this depth, the divers worked 22-minute intervals, he said.

Two claims on fame and fortune are made by Barber. One is that he beat the "bends," dread divers' disease which is caused by coming to the top too quickly after a dive. He had been diving near New York and had told his skipper he was okay when he came up. But that night, as he was going to dinner, he discovered his nose and ears were bleeding—the sign of the "bends." According to his story, he "tried to make it to a drug store, but the next thing I knew I

CHARLES HAYDEN, 66, PASSES IN NEW YORK

Was Among Most Powerful Men in American Financial Affairs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(UP)—Charles Hayden, 66, philanthropist and partner in the New York brokerage firm of Hayden, Stone & Company, died tonight at his Savoy Plaza hotel apartment after a month's illness.

J. Willard Hayden, of Boston, a brother and sole survivor, was at the bedside when Hayden died tonight. Born in Boston July 9, 1870, Hayden graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, of which he later became a trustee.

At one time Hayden was a director in more than 70 of the world's largest corporations and next to J. P. Morgan, was probably the most active and powerful man in the financial district. Despite his prominence he was not well known to the public.

He was listed in James W. Gerard's directory of the men who rule the United States as one of those who are too busy to hold political office, but who determine who shall hold such office. He never married.

Hayden helped finance most of the transit lines in New York city and was a director in the leading companies in this field. He was a member of the board of trustees of the American Museum of Natural History and presented the $120,000 Hayden planetarium to the museum.

Funeral services will be held Monday at St. Bartholomew's church at 3 p. m. (Atlanta time). Burial will be private at Cambridge, Mass.

HARTSFIELD MOVES TO SLASH EXPENSES OF CITY GOVERNMENT

Mayor Urges All Department Heads To Practice Rigid Economy.

Efforts of the city to reduce overhead and operating expenses were begun in earnest yesterday as Mayor Hartsfield started a series of conferences with various non-school department heads.

A proposal to cut the city's electric light bill for street and white way lighting without reducing the number of units was made in conferences between Mayor Hartsfield, Councilman Howard Haire, chairman of the electric lights committee, Dewey Johnson, city electrician, and Jackson P. Dick, representative of the Georgia Power Company.

Acting Chief of Police M. A. Hornsby and C. C. Brooks, secretary of the police department, discussed reduction of police department costs with Hartsfield and City Comptroller B. Graham West.

Seeks Cut to Minimum.
It was understood Hartsfield will take up costs in all departments and will urge elimination of every requested appropriation that is not absolutely necessary for efficient public service.

The finance committee, busy studying methods of balancing the 1937 budget with the smallest possible wage and salary reduction for employees, has been called for another session at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon by Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, chairman.

Councilman Haire and Johnson were understood to have requested Dick to investigate possible reduction in the unit cost of street lighting for the city. The cost this year has been set up in Johnson's requested appropriations at $230,000.

The power company in 1934 agreed to light the city for $225,000 a year, but a number of other units have been added. The cost in 1936 was $219,000, due to a refund of $6,000 for the period when lights were out during the sleet and ice storm last January.

To Seek Power Cost Cut.
It was understood the administration will ask the power company for a material rate reduction.

The mayor urged all departments to be careful of wasting city property and ordered department heads to cut operating costs wherever possible.

"Every time an employee leaves a light burning needlessly, he burns just that much money out of his pay check," Hartsfield said.

His attention is directed to small items of expense as well as the larger costs of maintaining the government, he declared.

The police department will not urge employment of 100 additional policemen, as requested by Chief T. O. Sturdivant and also probably will agree to elimination from the final budget of the item for purchase of 100 new pistols. This will become unnecessary when the superintendent's list is submitted by the new police committee, it was said.

Hornsby and Brooks emphasized the need of additional facilities in the station house and renovation of matresses, it was understood.

Another economy move in the police department by reducing the number of clerical workers was suggested, it was said.

LEWIS CAST ONLY VOTE FOR WOMAN OPPONENT

Chivalrous Senator Explains He Had To Uphold State's Honor.

(Copyright, 1937, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, today confirmed rumors that at the primary election last year, when he was seeking renomination to the senate, he voted for his opponent.

The rival candidate was a woman. At a meeting one night in Senator Lewis' own precinct, somebody shouted: "I haven't heard of anybody who is going to vote for your opponent!"

"What's that?" exclaimed Lewis. "You say you have heard of no one who will vote for my opponent? Then, sir, I shall vote for her myself."

And he did.

"Let it never be said of the great commonwealth of Illinois," declared the senator today, with a sweeping gesture, "that our manhood is lacking in chivalrous instincts as to forget completely the courtesy we owe to womanhood. You may well imagine how mortified I should have felt, if right in my home precinct a charming woman had been rudely ignored."

It turned out that the vote cast by Senator Lewis for his rival was the only vote he received in that particular precinct.

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 8.—(P)—Police Officer Walter Whitted charged a woman listed as Anna M. Kross, judge of a magistrate court in New York City, with reckless driving today.

Taken to police headquarters, she was summoned to appear in municipal court Monday when she failed to post $10 bond.

Whitted said she drove her automobile at a "high rate of speed through a restricted traffic zone near a school."

The officer reported he halted Judge Kross after a chase of several miles. He said her car attained a speed of between 60 and 70 miles an hour.

"Don't you know who I am?" Whitted quoted her. "I'm Judge Kross of New York."

Although she protested she was late for a golfing engagement, Whitted declared, the officer required her to accompany him to the police station.

He said she left the station with the remark: "I had planned to visit your court anyway."

Judge Kross, authority on crime, is a winter resident of Sarasota. Her children are enrolled at a private school here.

NEW COMMITTEES NAMED BY ED COOK

Special Groups Designated by President of Board of Education.

Special committees on salary investigation, legislative and fire insurance were named yesterday by Ed S. Cook, president of the Atlanta Board of Education.

D. H. McClatchey Jr. was appointed chairman of the legislative group, with Mrs. Z. V. Peterson and Ernest Brewer, while Mrs. Peterson was selected to head the salary investigation committee, on which H. J. Penn and Mrs. D. R. Longino will serve.

Penn was named chairman of the fire insurance committee, to serve with Mrs. Longino and Brewer.

The salary investigation body will recommend any needed group salary adjustments, it was said.

CLEMENCY APPEAL OF KILLER DENIED

Prison Record Adversely Plea by Savannah Beauty Shop Operator.

The state prison commission declined yesterday to recommend clemency for Hugh L. Cheshire, Savannah beauty shop operator, serving life for the murder of L. C. Price, operator of a neighboring barber shop.

Cheshire is represented by Herman Talmadge, son of the Governor, and J. E. B. Stewart, Atlanta attorney.

When the case was argued before the prison commission several weeks ago, clemency was opposed by Andrew J. Ryan, Jr., assistant solicitor general at Savannah.

The Governor was not in his office yesterday.

Mrs. Hattis Jackson, a gubernatorial adviser, said she had been advised the Governor "is not going to hear any more clemency cases and is not going to consider another one."

HOLY FATHER ENJOYS 'BEST DAY' IN WEEKS

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 8.—(P)—Pope Pius enjoyed his "best day" in weeks, Vatican prelates said tonight, but there was no fundamental change in his grave circumspect illness.

The pontiff devoted much time to the duties of his church in conference with his aides, and Dr. Amintore Milani, his personal physician, relaxed somewhat his close attention to the Holy Father.

Pius, refreshed by sleep, planned an address by radio to celebrate closing of the Eucharistic congress in Manila February 7—a message of hope for a union of all peoples looking toward Christ in peace in the world, prelates said.

Farmers of his Castel Gandolfo estate sent gifts of fresh vegetables and other products today, most of which the Pope will be unable to enjoy because of his restricted diet.

Tech Cagers Open Season With Mercer at Armory Tonight

The week of January 18th is to see every dog have his day in Georgia.

The good week literally is infested with field trials. The Southern amateur, which will attract the largest gallery, will begin in the so-called wee-sma' hours of one week from Monday.

That's down at All-Benny, Georgia. On the same morning, at the same wee-sma' hours, the Spaniel trials, with Springers and Cocker spaniels featured, will begin at Millen, Georgia.

And so help me if, over at Quitman, the home of the well-known Editor Royal Daniel, at the same hours aforementioned, if one of the better-known professional trials, The Continental, will not get going with many of the greatest field trial dogs in the nation being put down.

All of which means Georgia is becoming, if indeed the state has not become, the field trial state of the nation. Certainly there are more birds in Georgia. And for very good reason. There are more sportsmen whose preserves afford the birds sanctuary, located in Georgia than in other states. I refer to the sportsmen who have a definite program for quail.

It is too bad they all appear on the same date. Not only do they compete one with the other, but they are scheduled in the same week that a gentleman named Franklin D. Roosevelt is to be inaugurated as the chief official of the nation. And a lot of the old field trial men will be in Washington for that event.

I do wish Mr. Roosevelt and the field trial people would get together.

THE SPANIEL TRIALS.

Away back in the days before gunpowder was used for hunting man or beast, the English imported some dogs from Spain which came to be known as Spaniels.

From them came our own setter. And there were other developments.

The Cocker Spaniel, a grand little dog which has of late too often been relegated to the unhappy lot of a lap dog, was one of the developments.

He is a grand field dog.

He was used, as later was the Springer, when there was no gunpowder.

The sportsman went out into the royal preserve, sent the Cocker Spaniel into the wood and the Spaniel scared up a woodcock.

The sportsman promptly loosed the falcon and the falcon caught the woodcock and brought home the bacon. Figuratively speaking, of course.

That's where the little Cocker gets his name—he was used to hunt woodcock.

The Springer and the Cocker do not point, or hold, birds. Once they get the scent they go right in and flush the birds. They are excellent retrievers but they will not point. Although, at that, I believe some have been trained so to do. But it is "agin" the nature of the dog.

THE UPTURNED NOSES.

The Spaniel people turned up their noses at the bird dog people. Just as the fly fisherman hoists his snout at the lowly plug caster or worm fisherman.

The Spaniels, they say, are more sporting. They do not hold the birds; they get them right up and so there is less killing of game and the hunter must be more keen-eyed and handier with his gun.

Perhaps it is just as well they are holding the trials on the same date. Because if the bird dog men were visiting a Spaniel trial, or vice versa, there would be some noses punched. And quite hard, too.

The pointer and setter people are a sensitive people. They will take personal criticism very well. But they will brook no criticism of their dogs.

At any rate there will be more field trials on the week of January 18th than there will be fleas on the dogs. And our state has become the field trial state of the nation. For cause.

THE SOUTHERN AMATEUR.

The Continental trial, which is an open trial, will attract

FAVORITE YANKS TO BE ON SPOT IN COMING RACE

Tigers Expected To Fire Heaviest Guns at World's Champions.

By Charles Dunkley.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—New York Yankees, the same fellows everyone felt sorry for last spring as they showed signs of old age, are the villains of the impending American league baseball drama of 1937.

Every ball club in the league from manager to bat boy will fire double-barreled charges at the "murderers' row" which again threatens to make life miserable for them by running away with the show for the second straight season.

As the clubs look today, the Detroit Tigers line up as the police force assigned to keep the bludgeoning Yankees under control. If Hank Greenberg's wrist is strong enough to whirl his big club, the Yankees may have a tough time keeping out of the lineup. Hank's absence made almost that much difference in '36 when Joe McCarthy struck a couple of new sparkplugs in his old machine and shattered speed limits.

TWO WEAKNESSES?

The two apparent weaknesses in the Yankee front are pitchers and Tony Lazzeri, although it must be recalled that both Tony and the Yankee flingers had only fair seasons last year and still the Yankees went hog wild. However, Lazzeri definitely is near the end of his great trail and, surprising as he is, it is doubtful whether McCarthy can depend on his steady, smart second baseman another full season with competition expected to be hotter.

Joe DiMaggio, whose superb hitting and fielding, played such a vital part in the Yankee drive is no riddle. Der Mag's got what it takes and should get better in his second year. The other Yankee fence busters, Lou Gehrig, Bill Dickey and Frank Crosetti, show no signs of slipping. As a team, however, the Yankees have a grand superiority complex that makes them tough to beat.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the world champions, rarely makes predictions, but this winter the good Colonel is going around and telling the boys that his club has some star rookies coming up who'll be "darn hard to keep out of the regular lineup."

FINE ROOKIES.

The Tigers also have a flock of exceptional rookies coming up from their old farm in Milwaukee of the American Association, notably First Baseman Rudy York and Outfielder Chet Laabs.

Prospects for the rest of the league aren't exactly bright, although the Boston Red Sox may get over their lazy ways and win the pennant a year late. The purchase (or trade for) Pinky Higgins from the Philadelphia Athletics is sure to help, but where are the pitchers? If Pitcher John Mauer gets good again, the gold-plated boys from Boston may be tough to beat.

The Chicago White Sox, despite their fine showing last season, don't seem to have the power of fielding. Washington, improved by the sensational Bob Feller, may come to life. Of all the clubs, the Indians seem to have the best chance, along with Detroit, but something always happens to Cleveland.

St. Louis will do a lot of surprising. Last year, the Browns were expected to be the killers. Instead, they got off to a horrible start and never recovered. Under a new ownership, the Browns won't have to sell their good players and may be very tough to get along with.

The same managers will be on the firing line with very few changes on their staffs of assistants. The umpires may be tougher than ever because they got a good raise in pay for their 1936 work.

"Give an ump a raise," commented Casey Stengel one day, "and he'll run you."

G. M. A. MEETS ALABAMA FIVE

G. M. A.'s basketball team will open its 1937 schedule at 7:30 o'clock tonight with Anniston High, of Anniston, Ala., as opponents. The game will be played on the College Park court.

Anniston was runner-up in the Alabama state championship tournament last year and returned several of the players, around whom the 1937 team was built.

G. M. A. has played several practice games before the holidays began, but Coach Burbage has been unable to select a tentative team, due to many players not coming out until this week.

And with one of Alabama's strongest teams scheduled for tonight, the G. M. A. coach will be unable to make many substitutions.

Down the Alleys

Seventy-five bowlers have signed for participation in the handicap bowling tournament that will be held at the downtown alleys at 8 o'clock tonight. The bowlers are expected to enter before the contest gets under way.

With a suit of clothes being awarded to the winner of the men's event and a pair of champion bowling shoes going to the winner of the women's contest there is much interest among the league bowlers.

No entry fee other than the cost of the games bowled will be charged. The men bowlers will play in the first round and the women bowlers in the second round. Handicaps apply on the usual two-thirds basis.

Some of those who are entered in the men's event are: Ralph R. Carter, E. M. Tappan, Bill McAdams, Farris A. White, R. W. Boat, W. E. Potts, E. L. Knox, J. R. Spier, James W. Moore, C. P. Knight, Clarence Fitzgerald, H. W. James, H. L. Ferguson, T. G. Allen, H. Cantrell, H. L. Phillips, Henry Phillips, Bobbie Donahue, Rick Donahue, Mary Donahue, Elizabeth Fick, Ernest Cantrell, C. W. FENCING CAPTAIN.

WINTER PARK, Fla., Jan. 8.—Dante A. Cetrulo, a sophomore from Newark, N. J., has been elected captain of the Rollins College fencing team for this year, it is announced. Cetrulo led the Rollins team in a one-sided 14-0 victory over Georgia Tech during a holiday trip to Atlanta.

AUBURN COACH IS CONSIDERED AT N. C. STATE

Dell Morgan Impresses Dean Harrelson During Conference.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 8.—(AP)—J. O. (Dell) Morgan, assistant coach at Auburn, conferred today with Dean J. W. Harrelson, of North Carolina State College, about the position of head football coach, held until January 1 by Hank Anderson.

"We just talked about the job," Harrelson said, adding he was "pleased personally" with Morgan, and found him "highly recommended."

The dean said he and President Frank P. Graham, of the University of North Carolina, would consider the coaching set-up soon.

The list of applicants for coaching jobs mounted to 36 today, Harrelson revealed. Edward J. Storey, director of health and physical education at Mamaroneck Schools in New York, and Arthur J. Hanson, director of athletics at Brevard College, sent in general applications, while Lyle M. Rich, coach at Kingsport, Tenn. High School, asked for the freshman coaching job.

Hagen Pins Self And Davis Takes Hot Mat Battle

By Thad Holt.

Much in the same disturbed state of mind as the boy who swallows a dime and can't figure out whether he was in a dime or out a dime did last night's goody gathering exit the Atlanta theater where Frank Speer staged his usual sizzling heavyweight wrestling show.

One thing was clear, though, George Hagen, the old marine, sincerely believed he had pinned the Ohio power-house, Karl Davis, only to see Davis' giant hand raised in victory and to be told that he, Hagen, had been counted out while executing his pet hold, the Indian death lock.

Davis won a fall and Hagen won a fall, with the same death lock that later was to mean his doom. The first fall went to Davis in 27 minutes, the second to Hagen in 10.

Twice during the third fall Hagen slipped under the ropes to avoid being finished by the death lock. A third time Hagen nailed him in the corner of the ring with what looked like the pay-off hold. Carelessly, watching Davis and not his own shoulders, Hagen allowed himself to be pinned, and Tony Ruff counted him out. Absorbed in his work and ignorant of the decision, Hagen continued to punish Davis so severely that the big man was limp as a dish rag. And so it came to pass that the man who really finished the stronger was the loser.

Roland Kirchmeyer sustained a severe torn knee ligament in 30 minutes of interesting grappling with Milo Steinborn and had to forfeit the match.

George (Sully) Harben, native of Chamblée, Ga. made a hit in a 30-minute draw with Billy Bartush.

PURPLES BEATEN BY LANIER, 39-26

MACON, Ga., Jan. 8.—With Bill Jolly and Jackie Dunham, forwards, setting the pace, the Lanier Purple team defeated the Boys' High Purple Hurricane, 39 to 26, here tonight.

The Purple led 14-6 at the half. Captain Bob Smith led the Purple in all phases of the game. He scored 10 markers and played the entire game.

Twenty personal fouls were recorded, 14 of them being made by Lanier cagers. Only one player, Alfred Lowe, Lanier forward, was ejected from the first combat because of fouls.

The Purple invade Albany tomorrow night to play the Albany High Indians.

Druid Hills Takes Two Cage Battles

Druid Hills opened its 1937 basketball schedule with a double victory last Friday afternoon on the Druid Hills court.

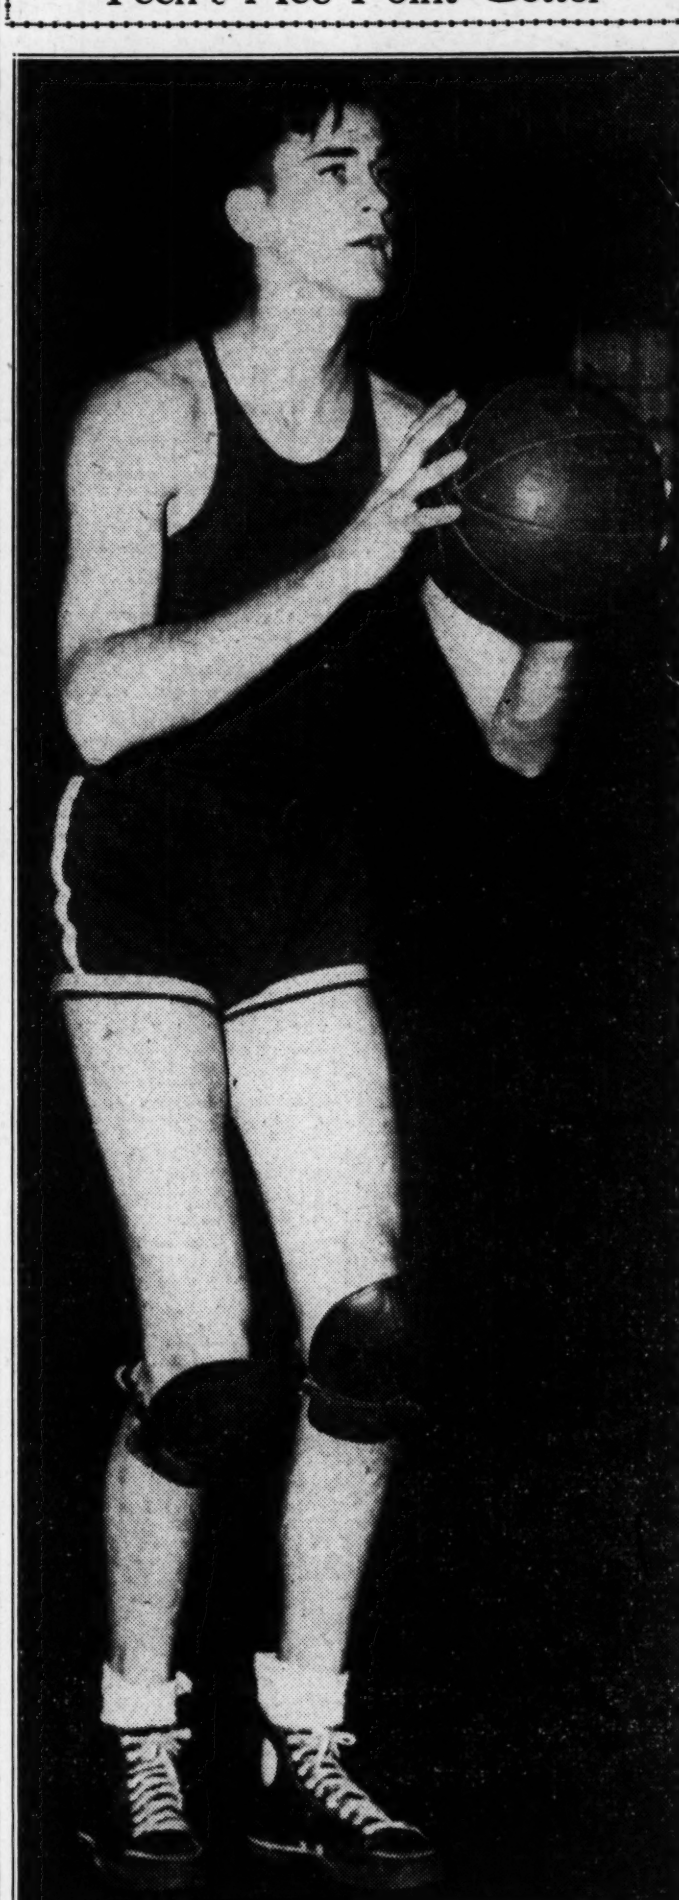

The varsity defeated an alumni group, 25 to 17, and the girls made a clean sweep of the games with a 22-to-18 victory over Sacred Heart.

Woodall with 11 points was outstanding in the boys' game, while Warnock, for the winners, and Elder, for the losers, were best in the girls' game.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—David Levy, 25, a Philadelphia restaurant manager, who chased a foul ball in Yankee stadium and charged he was eluded by stadium operatives, won a jury verdict for $7,500 today. He sued for $80,500.

Tech's Ace Point Getter

Ben Jones, the Canton crack shot and ace point getter on the Georgia Tech five, is the big hope tonight when the Jackets meet the Mercer Bears in the opening game at the naval armory. It will be the seventh game of the season for the Bears, coached by Lake Russell. They've won four out of six and are slight favorites over Tech tonight.

Warren Routs Petrels; Bulldogs Win, 30 to 17

Virlyn Moore Leads Assault; Oglethorpe Team Lacking Practice.

Oglethorpe's basketball team, after only three workouts, opened its season with a 25-to-22 defeat at the hands of the fast Warren Company team Friday night on the Fulton High court.

And it was a former college star, Virlyn Moore Jr., with 21 points who led Warren to its 13th victory of the season against only two defeats.

Ed Copeland, a former Petrel and an all-star forward last year, played an important part in the victory, though he scored only four points. His passing, particularly in the first half, was particularly good.

Ben Forkner at center and Farmer, a forward, were outstanding for the Petrels. Forkner scored 12 of the 25 points and was the center of the Oglethorpe passing attack.

Lack of practice handicapped the college team.

Warren will seek its 14th victory tonight against the Canton Bulldogs in Canton.

FIGHT BOYCOTT IS THREATENED BY ANTI-NAZIS

Schmeling, Braddock Pilots Concerned Over Menace of League.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs today expressed concern over a proposed boycott of the Jim Braddock-Max Schmeling heavyweight boxing championship bout in June by non-sectarian anti-Nazi league of which Samuel Untermyer is president.

Jacobs was informed of the boycott by Mortimer B. Zerkow, the league's director of public relations. Mike referred him to Madison Square Garden, promoter of the title fight, and then summoned his lawyer, Sol Strauss.

Jacobs obtained an option on Schmeling's services after the Teuton knocked out Joe Louis last summer. The promoter is concerned over the league's action because, he said, Schmeling owes him $31,000.

"I've asked my lawyer to talk to Mr. Zerkow to see if the league won't call off the boycott," he said.

The boycott also was viewed with concern by Joe Gould, Braddock's manager.

"If it goes through," said Gould, "I won't permit Jim to fight Schmeling."

John Reed Kilpatrick, president of the Garden Corporation, said "It has been the policy of the Garden to run its business and it will continue to do so."

Untermyer is vacationing at Palm Springs, Calif.

Bulldog Eleven Ranks 16th Best, Jackets No. 17

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—With the completion of the post-season football games, the teams of Minnesota, Pittsburgh and Nebraska, rank first, second and third, respectively, in national standing of the first twenty teams, on the basis of percentage points by the Atlantic Football Forecast Sheet.

Pittsburgh, ending up only one point behind the leader, moved from third place to second by virtue of its victory over Washington in the Rose Bowl. Texas Christian, ranking practically nowhere in the middle of November, has worked its way up steadily to rank seventh in the final standings through its victories over Santa Clara and Marquette, California, after being in the first bracket for several weeks, has dropped out of the first twenty entirely in the finals.

The following is the final national standing of the first twenty teams, with their percentage points:

EMORY CUTS 2 FROSH SPORTS

Track and tennis, heretofore included on the regular winter quarter intramural program at Emory, will not be offered to freshmen during the coming quarter, the athletic department announced.

Discontinuation of the sports came after agitation by the student athletic council, who charged freshmen failed to report for practice in bad weather and that tennis courts and running tracks are never in condition for use.

Basketball claimed the largest number of freshmen, with 68 reporting for practice under Coach Chris Connors. Swimming and boxing drew 27 each. Other sports offered new men for the quarter are fencing, lacrosse, and wrestling.

Cunningham, Venzke Race Again Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Featuring the renewal of the Glenn Cunningham-Gene Venzke rivalry, the Columbus Council of the Knights of Columbus will open the indoor track and field season tomorrow night with its eleventh annual games at the 106th Infantry armory.

Cunningham and Venzke, who have waged their battles over a mile or 1,500 meters for five years, will clash in the 800-meter run, won by the burly Kansan the last two years. Venzke beaten in the event last year when Cunningham was clocked in 1:55.2, originally sent him his entry for the 3,000 meters, but shifted to the shorter distance in order to get another chance at his rival, now a New York University post-graduate student.

Harlow-Jacobus Row Flares Again

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Controversy between George R. Jacobus, president of the National Professional Golfers' Association, and Robert E. Harlow, recently removed manager of the P. G. A. tournament bureau, reached another boiling stage today.

As Harlow called a meeting tonight of pro golfers here for the Los Angeles open, Jacobus from Sarasota, Fla., issued a statement severely criticizing Harlow's attempt to reopen the row that followed when he was removed from the tournament job last month.

Ed Dudley, of Augusta, Ga., chairman of the P. G. A. tournament committee, declared the committee was standing pat under the present set-up, with Fred Corcoran newly appointed in Harlow's place.

Carnegie Declines Bid to Investigate

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The executive committee of the Carnegie Foundation today declined the request of the National Association of State Universities that it make a supplementary survey to its famous "Bulletin No. 23" of 1929 on American intercollegiate athletics.

CLICKING BEARS AWARDED EDGE OVER JACKETS

Mundorff's Team May Start Slow; Burtz Boulware To Miss Game.

By Jack Troy.

Coach Lake Russell brings his Mercer Bears here tonight to play Georgia Tech in basketball. And the Bears are a slight favorite in the game which will start at 8 o'clock in the Naval armory.

While it is the opening game of Tech's season, it will be the seventh of the year for Mercer. The Bears have won four out of six. They have, even in losing, managed to run up some worthy scores.

The two games Mercer lost—one was against the Albany Blues by one point—saw the Bears getting the points. In the other loss to the strong Cohen Brothers team, of Jacksonville, the Bears ran up more than 50 points.

It will be Lake Russell's first invasion of Atlanta as a basketball coach. He has brought several Bear football teams here to play Oglethorpe, but the role of cage coach is a new one. And, apparently, he is bringing a real outfit here to battle the Jackets.

BEARS LIKED.

The Bears are considered a slight favorite because Tech, while having outstanding material, is expected to open slowly due to a late start. The Jackets did not drill during the Christmas holidays and five of the players joined the squad for the first time last Monday.

The Jackets started slowly last year. Florida whipped them in the opening game of the season at Jacksonville, and Florida, as later developments showed, was not in the Jackets' class.

Then, too, Tech's star guard, Burtz Boulware, will not see action in the opener tonight because of a wrenched ankle suffered in practice a couple of nights ago.

BOWLWARE OUT.

Boulware had been practicing for a month. And so his guard post will be manned by Fletcher Sims, who is capable enough but has been working out for only a week.

All this plus Mercer's early start and current record seems to take away any advantage Tech ordinarily might have. The Jackets are expected to be one of the top teams in the conference by tournament time.

Coach Roy Mundorff, who will not be surprised if Tech loses a couple of early games, including tonight's, said yesterday he'd probably start Bo Johnston at center, Ben Jones and Bill Jordan for forwards, and Whack Hyder and Sims at guards.

Jones is the ace point-getter of the Jacket five. He was high scorer last year. A great deal may depend upon how sharp Jones' eye for the basket is tonight. The Canton crack shot is one of the top-ranking forwards of the south.

STARTERS.

Coach Russell likely will start Kenyon Sellers and "Pepper" Martin, forwards; Harold Irwin, center, and Doc Kirksey and Henry Lawrence, guards. It should be one of the first battles of the season. And, surely, the best Tech fans have had the opportunity to witness in years.

The Jackets may foot everybody and overwhelm the Bears. If they do, it will serve as a tip-off that the Jackets—not Kentucky, Alabama or any of the rest—are the team to watch in the south this year.

FISCAL EXPERTS STUDY METHODS OF CHECKING INFLATION OF CREDITS

Possibilities of Another Increase in Federal Reserve Requirements Seen.

By SANDOR S. KLEIN

(Copyright, 1937, by United Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Possibilities of another substantial increase in federal reserve requirements were seen tonight as the threat of runaway credit inflation remained a major concern of the administration's fiscal experts.

Two steps already have been taken to reduce the huge surplus of idle funds in the nation's banks upon which credit booms are based:

1. The federal reserve board increased reserve requirements of member banks 50 per cent.

2. The Treasury announced further purchases of domestic and imported gold would be placed in an "inactive" fund.

Excess Reserves.

At present, federal reserve member banks have excess reserves aggregating $2,010,000,000, funds over and above the legally required reserve. This sum, economists estimate, is base for potential credit expansion of $10,000,000,000. The federal reserve officials anticipate further increases in the excess reserve during the month due to return flow of currency from circulation after the Christmas holidays.

The increase in reserve requirements, which represent certain percentages of various types of deposits the banks must maintain in reserve, was ordered by the federal reserve board of governors on August 15 last. Member banks thus had to draw on their excess reserve to meet the stipulated increase.

But the decrease in surplus funds was only temporary. Because of uncertain political conditions abroad, many foreign nations shipped large quantities of gold to this country. The capital inflow was superimposed on the existing excess reserves, adding to the threat of an unhealthy credit situation.

Gold Movement.

To offset the effects of foreign gold movements, the Treasury on December 21 inaugurated the "sterilization" program. Under this new policy the Treasury has been buying up all incoming and newly mined gold and placing it in an "inactive" fund. In this way, the gold was kept out of the country's credit base. For the present, the gold purchases are being made from the Treasury's available funds, but shortly weekly issues of short-term treasury bills will be used to obtain money for that purpose.

However, the sterilization program has not affected the problem of dealing with the volume of existing excess reserves. This is admitted without qualification in the latest issue of the federal reserve bulletin.

Reports of an impending increase in reserve requirements, receive a measure of confirmation in the bulletin.

"An increase in reserve requirements at a time when member banks hold sufficient excess reserves to meet the increase," the publication said, "results in making unavailable as a basis of credit expansion a portion of member bank funds for which these banks are not finding a profitable outlet."

An increase at such a time has no immediate effect upon the supply of credit in the money market, but merely limits a possible future growth in this supply."

PATROLMAN FIRED IN TOWERY DEATH

Pensacola Motorcycle Officer Dismissed After Probe of Accidental Shooting.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Motorcycle Officer F. M. McDaniel, of the Pensacola police department, was dismissed from the department by unanimous vote of the city commission last night after it heard testimony in the fatal shooting of Raymond Towery, Atlanta youth, on December 21 at a night club.

The board sustained charges of conduct prejudicial to the best interests of the police department brought by Public Safety Director Eugene Forsyth against McDaniel.

"Towery was killed," the commission said, when struck in the head by a bullet from McDaniel's gun. The police officer said the shooting was accidental. Witnesses said McDaniel, who was not on duty at the time, had fired his gun into the air several times while at the night club with Towery.

Towery was 28 and lived at 708 Boulevard, S. He was a machinist at the Fisher Body Company plant here, and had gone to Florida to visit a sister, Mrs. Dan Jordan.

He was shot early in the morning of December 21 while he was ashore from a floating night club, a boat moored in Little Bayou, near Pensacola. Witnesses said the patrolman was firing his gun in the air to "celebrate Christmas."

ODETS MARRIES STAR

HE LOVED AS SHADOW

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Lure Rainer, film actress, and Clifford Odets, noted playwright and scenarist, were married today in Miss Rainer's Brentwood home.

They had intended to go to Yuma, Ariz., for the ceremony, but Odets demurred because of a severe case of "stratospherophobia"—a morbid fear of airplanes.

The ceremony was performed by Superior Judge Thurmond Clarke, Lewis Milestone, film director, and his wife were best man and bridesmaid.

Odets fell in love with Miss Rainer when he saw her on the screen. They met when he came here from his New York success as a playwright to make a film scenario.

Deputy Sheriff Marion Gordon said the accident was "unavoidable."

ONE WOMAN KILLED IN INTERSECTION CRASH

SANFORD, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Miss John Sauls, of Benson Springs, Fla., was killed and Miss Harriett A. Taylor, of Westfield, Mass., seriously injured here late today in the collision of two automobiles at an intersection.

Deputy Sheriff Marion Gordon said the accident was "unavoidable."

Atlanta Girls Read Proofs on New Camp Fire Manual

"Every word must be correct and every honor award clearly explained," Camp Fire Girls maintain as they carefully proofread their new manual, "Book for Camp Fire Girls," to be released this week. The manual will be distributed to approximately 250,000 girls throughout the country, officials said. The group of girls shown above are a few of the Atlanta group who spent busy hours in checking the manual for typographical errors as it rolled off the presses.

New Manual for Camp Fire Girls Gives 1,327 Activity Suggestions

Release of a new manual for Camp Fire Girls, "Book of the Camp Fire Girls," is announced this week. The new book contains 1,327 suggestions for activities designed to interest the modern girl and prepare her for finding her place in the world.

It has been estimated that more than 250,000 girls throughout the country will receive the manual. The first edition of a new rank, that of Trail Seeker, the first rank, is announced. Explanation of several new ways old girls may take the highest rank, that of Torchbearer, is included in the manual and all honors in the Seven Crafts have been rewritten and increased in number. They now include activities in Home Craft, Hand

Craft, Health Craft, Camp Craft, Nature Love, Citizenship and Business.

Camp Craft honors have been increased from 53 in the old manual to 114 in the new, it was announced. Skills for which the honors are awarded include knot tying, trail blazing, map making, fire building and various forms of camp cooking.

"There is nothing like it for character development," Hugh Trotter, acting camp chairman, said in expressing approval of the new manual. "The book is a treasure chest of suggestions for living are changing constantly. Today's girls are learning a new kind of outdoor housekeeping. We set it every day during the summer, here at home at Camp Toccoa, as girls go off on three or four-day gypsy hikes. The girls take a keen interest in their new manual and spent busy hours checking the book themselves, officials said.

THE COOK'S NOTE BOOK

By RUTH CHAMBERS.

The oven is a most reliable friend to the woman who has so many household tasks to perform that meals must almost "cook themselves." If there is no time to "watch the kettle boil," then select foods which may be put into the oven. Have the temperature right, and your time will be your own until the end of the cooking period. There will be no boiling over, no burning—if the oven is right—and you'll have nothing to stir lest it stick.

A great idea, these oven meals, especially if there are youngsters to demand your attention, or the house must be cleared, or you have a lot of sewing or mending to do.

Save in Budget, Too.

A casserole comes in for plenty of use in such households. In fact it's best to have more than one on hand. By a little planning, you can arrange

HELEN HAYES IS GIVEN GOOD DICTION AWARD

Actress Overcame Southern Accent by Sticking Tongue Out at Self.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Helen Hayes today received the national speeches fellowship 1936 gold medal for good diction and described her lingual success as a victory over a southern accent.

She defeated the accent, the actress now starring in "Victoria Regina," said, by sticking her tongue out at herself in her mirror.

Recounting her early struggles to get a foothold in the theater, Miss Hayes, who was born in Washington, D. C., commented:

"I had a southern accent without even knowing it. There were no 'ts' at all in my language, and as far as I was concerned, final 'g's did not exist."

Her battle in behalf of 't's and final 'g's started under the coaching of Ida Payne, the English director, she said, when she was playing with William Gillette in "Dear Brutus."

Since then, she has had some tough assignments, vocally speaking, including the job of delivering a Scotch accent for "What Every Woman Knows," which she did by hiring a Scotch maid.

In "Victoria Regina," she has to talk through a mouthful of cotton, put in her cheeks to age her, at the end of the play, but even manages to produce what experts appraise as a good simulation of Queen Victoria's characteristic laugh.

She got that, Miss Hayes explained tonight, by listening to an old lady in the front row at one of the first performances of the show.

glaze of ice—"decidedly colder" weather forecast—hampered transportation.

A meteorological crazy quilt covered the nation's temperatures. Temperatures far below normal west of the Mississippi but far above normal east of the river. A prediction of colder weather in the latter section—with five days forecast for Chicago—drew the attention of health officials combating outbreaks of pneumonia and influenza. A decline in the disease was reported at Chicago but 27 deaths were recorded in a 24-hour period—increasing the death toll to 737 here since December 1.

New York was the hardest hit of any city. Fatalities there in the last week numbered 299. "Flu" was reported on the increase in Detroit and Pittsburgh. The Indianapolis health board estimated 20,000 persons suffered in the city there. The Spokane, Wash., health commissioner said the epidemic was second only to the 1918 outbreak in severity. Influenza in a bad form was prevalent in Iowa and Minnesota.

The incidence passed its peak in the Rocky Mountain area but the Colorado state prison infirmary was crowded. Leadville, Col., closed its schools.

Struck by Cold Wave. The far west was engulfed by a cold wave. The lowest temperature on record—20 below zero, was registered at Cedar City, Utah. Celery growers at Stockton, Cal., reported their $250,000 crop was ruined. Artichokes were frozen when the mercury dropped to 20 below at Salinas, Calif. The 30 degree snap was the coldest January 8 on its books.

A Los Angeles-bound bus with 15 passengers was unreported in Utah's snow. The zero belt reached south to Amarillo, Texas, but was not so intense at those points:

Minot, N. D., —31; Williston, N. D., North Platte, Neb., and Goodland, Kans., —12; Denver, —10; Pueblo, Colo., Fortran, Okla., and Spokane, Wash., —8; Hill City, Kans., —7; Sioux Falls, S. D., —6; Omaha, —5; Salt Lake City, Walla Walla, Wash., and Pampa, Texas, —2.

Deaths attributed to the weather included four in Texas, two each in California and Oklahoma, and one each in Kansas and Minnesota.

NEW THEATER UNION THREATENS A. F. L. UNITS

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Bernard DeKoff, president of the three-week-old United Theatrical and Motion Picture Workers of America, today announced the union's intention of organizing all theatrical employees into one industrial union.

DeKoff, claiming that almost 60 locals, mostly in the east, had become affiliated, predicted the new group would eventually replace the American Federation of Labor craft unions in the theater.

ORNITHOLOGICAL BODY HEARS U. S. NATURALIST

Earle R. Greene, former Atlantan, who is directing the federal government project establishing a wild life sanctuary in the Okefenokee swamp, spoke here last night before a meeting of the Georgia Ornithological Society and will speak tonight at a meeting of the Georgia Society of Naturalists.

For the past two years, Mr. Greene has been manager of the Lake Matamusket migratory wild fowl refuge in eastern North Carolina, and has just been named manager of the government wild life project in the south Georgia swamp. The government has taken over 200,000 acres of the swamp land to establish the sanctuary.

Trainman Rescued From Under Engine

MILAN, Mo., Jan. 8.—(UP)—Railway workmen and volunteers tonight rescued Henry Stroobele, a brakeman, who was trapped when a Burlington railway locomotive plunged down an embankment near here and was wrecked.

Four hours of work in near-zero temperatures were required before the rescuers were able to tunnel under the engine and then jack it up to free Stroobele.

The Centerville (Iowa) brakeman suffered crushed feet but without the exposure with the aid of hot water bottles and blankets.

TERRACING PROVEN INADEQUATE

Randolph Objects To Limiting Amount Earned for Adopting Practice.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Disagreement between department of agriculture officials at Washington and field representatives in conference here for a discussion of the 1937 agricultural conservation program, cropped up today in a denunciation by Walter L. Randolph of the Alabama extension service, of provisions for terracing land.

Randolph termed the terracing program as a means of halting soil erosion "wholly inadequate," objecting vigorously to limiting the amount that may be earned for terracing to the total of the "soil building allowance" for each farm.

Under the conservation program, it was pointed out, the federal government makes payments to farmers to assist in financing the planting of soil-conserving crops and adopting soil-building practices.

Payments Vary. These payments vary, depending on the value of the land or the practice adopted and the average cost of the farmer of adopting a particular practice.

In addition, there is a limitation on the amount an individual farmer may earn for adopting soil-building practices. This limitation, known as the "soil-building allowance," varies for each farm and is based on the past cropping history of each farm.

Under the program, the farmer is paid for terracing at 40 cents per hundred feet, provided the terracing is done with good far terracing practices.

"Putting a limitation on the amount that may be earned for terracing is not at all in line with the thinking of the southern farmers," Randolph said. "On the whole, I think we are very well pleased with the 1937 program but its provisions in regard to terracing are wholly inadequate to meet the needs of the southern region."

"Soil erosion is one of the south's most serious agricultural problems. In some of the hill areas much of the land formerly regarded as the best in those sections has been destroyed for cropping by erosion."

Terracing is necessary before much can be accomplished toward improving the land in eroded areas. I think we should do everything possible to encourage terracing on as wide a scale as possible."

Representatives from other states in the southern region, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, and South Carolina, agreed without dissent with the Alabama official although not all of them were as emphatic as Randolph.

Julius A. Cobb, director, southern division, agricultural adjustment administration, said he could make no statement regarding any possible changes in the existing provisions until after he had conferred with officials in Washington.

Cobb said he expected to return to Washington tonight, but that the conference would continue through tomorrow morning. I. W. Duggan, assistant director, will preside in Mr. Cobb's absence.

She sealed the letter, put on her leather jacket, and went out to mail it. Arlen let the wind whip her hair on her neck and sting her eyes. It would be better to have dead dreams than dreams that were only crushed and that rushed hopefully upward when hope was faintly stirred. Would divorce prick the armor Henry had worn for so long? That night—that night—no use to think of that now. Everything had been misinterpreted that night.

Philip stopped in that evening. "Arlen, I've been thinking about you and me. You've said 'no' every time I've asked you but I've kept on hoping you might change your mind. I've been having dates with Ann Tucker. . . . He stopped and laughed. "In spite of her mother—and I—I believe she's in love with me. I won't deny that I want to get married. But Ann knows, as everybody knows, that I've been in love with you since you were in high school. She thinks when I call on her it's because you can't see me or because you have something else to do. Getting back to her mother again," said Philip, "she's the kind that asks a chap if his intentions are honorable. When I called Ann last night, she wouldn't talk to me."

"I suggested Ann to you, Philip. Now don't misunderstand. What I'm trying to explain is Arlen took up the unfinished sentence. . . . that if you are going to see Ann in the future, you must not see me. I—I might regret this, Philip, but I can't do anything else. My mother used to tell me that I'd never be satisfied with anything but a palace. A palace or nothing, where love is concerned. I guess—I'm just that way."

When she left, she knew that when she saw him again he would be with Ann and that at a party he would keep his distance. It was that the state of being married he wanted rather than a wife. And Ann, small and dark and vital, who had majored in home economics in college, was a perfect mate for him. Arlen saw them shopping for furniture, being extensively entertained, getting ecstatic over china and crystal.

A week later she took up the evening paper and saw Ann's dark hair and honest eyes looking at her. Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Tucker were announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ann Elizabeth, to Mr. Philip Preston. The wedding would take place in the spring.

She wondered if she should have said that Philip was passing out of her life. Ann did not want a palace. Ann wanted a wedding band on her finger and a house with a nursery in it.

It had begun to snow early in the morning and the residents of Ruxton looked out their windows at a white world.

Arlen put down her bag. "I'm Arlen Leeds, is Elissa here?" "Oh! No, she isn't here. Forgive me for thinking you had the wrong apartment."

"My fingers ache. I lost one of my gloves," Arlen rubbed the cold hand. "Have you heard Elissa say that she was expecting him? Did he ever see her rather sudden and I was wondering if she knew I had been sent for."

Ruth Denver smiled. "She's always talking about 'when you're coming back' but I'm sure she didn't think it would be so soon as he gets in. I've been hoping you wouldn't come at all. It means I'll have to hunt up another lodging and Elissa is such good company I hate to leave."

Arlen took off her hat and shook the snow from it. "I haven't come to stay, and the divan will accommodate me beautifully. Excuse me. I must see called Renny's apartment; it was a long time before she heard his mother's voice."

"Arlen?" asked Mrs. Maynard. "I'm so glad you came."

"Is Renny there?"

"No. Not just now."

"Do you know why he sent for me?"

There was a pause, then she said gently. "Yes, I do know, but I don't think I'm the person to tell you. I'll have him call you as soon as he gets in. If I go to bed, I'll leave a note for him. Don't worry. It's nothing alarming. I've been walking from one window to the other wondering if you made the trip in this weather. You're at Elissa's, aren't you? If you

A LITTLE SATURDAY TALK.

A month or so ago I wrote several stories about coal, and in one of them I told the names of some of the world's leading coal-producing nations. The list was based on the average over a period of years, and in it I did not include the name of Russia.

A reader has written to ask about Russia's rank in coal production, so I shall speak of it today. Until the last few years, Russia has ranked far behind some other nations, but the late figures have shown big gains.

If we take late figures for a single year, the rank of the nations remain almost the same as the average over a period of years—except for Russia. Russia has risen from seventh place to fourth place, with only the United States, Great Britain and Germany ahead of her. France, Poland and other countries have been left behind. The Russian coal output has more than doubled in the past five years.

Russia has made even greater gains in the iron and steel industry. In the last six years her iron and steel production has increased to about three times what it was at the beginning of that period. The United States still ranks first in this field, but Russia and Germany are running a hard race for second place, with Great Britain a strong fourth.

Are you saving the stories we are having about China? There will be more of them next week, and if you save them all you will have a short history of that old nation. It is not easy to obtain historical facts

ROY V. HARRIS.

Roy V. Harris, speaker-elect of the Georgia house of representatives, was born with his sign in the zodiac sign Libra, October 2, marking his natal day. Libra is the sign of fair judgment, generosity, self-reliance, intuition.

The planet Venus governs the particular part of the sign under which Mr. Harris' birthdate comes. The presence of Venus in the sign denotes a just disposition, friendly towards all, one powerful in the defense of weaker persons.

The ruler of the chart is in the midheaven or vantage point. This position confers friends, social qualities and positions of honor and trust. There is an unusual ability to judge human nature.

The Moon position gives a splendid sense of values, with caution and persistence in carrying out his purposes. He gains loyalty to friends from the same planet.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: We are a trio of young girls, age 16, 17, 18, respectively. A. and J. are sisters whose mother is so strict with them that they are losing touch with their friends. They must be in by 9 o'clock. They cannot associate with the boys, even those that should be their close friends. They go to their mother and ask her why she is so strict with them and she replies that they don't need to go out at night, that they have a very satisfactory answer, is it? The funny part of it is that she got married when she was 17, so she must have been going out at night before that time. I have lived near these girls all of my life and I know they are fine, innocent girls who don't indulge in any bad habits and think badly of the girls who do. I could tell you some ridiculous things that happen if they get home 15 minutes after 9 o'clock. Please tell us if we are wrong in thinking that two or three hours of living near these girls all of my life and I know they are fine, innocent girls who don't indulge in any bad habits and think badly of the girls who do. I could tell you some ridiculous things that happen if they get home 15 minutes after 9 o'clock. Please tell us if we are wrong in thinking that two or three hours of living near these girls all of my life and I know they are fine, innocent girls who don't indulge in any bad habits and think badly of the girls who do. A moment after she had called her warning, the hungry lion broke through the underbrush just behind Jane. The beast bared its fangs, growled, and charged! The girl leaped for an overhanging bough. The lion leaped too, its talons striking out viciously! . . .

Savage beasts, savage men—twin terrors of the African wild! By swift action, Jane sought to escape from the one; but Tarzan, her mate, employed a different technique in dealing with the menacing warriors. By feigning indifference he tried to gain time.

For a moment, the black spear-men hesitated. They believed Tarzan was one of the dread Kavuru, whom they credited with strange other-worldly powers. The fearlessness of the white giant seemed to confirm the tales they had heard of the Kavuru's immortality.

But then a woman shouted from the rear of the warriors. "Kill the Kavuru; they stole my daughter!" "And mine!" screamed another. All the villagers took up the cry, "Kill him! Kill him!" Then hatred conquered fear, and the warriors rushed to strike!

For a moment, the black spear-men hesitated. They believed Tarzan was one of the dread Kavuru, whom they credited with strange other-worldly powers. The fearlessness of the white giant seemed to confirm the tales they had heard of the Kavuru's immortality.

ROOSEVELT MAY VISIT PHILIPPINES THIS YEAR; QUEZON COMING TO U.S.

Tydings-McDuffie Act Left Unsettled Many Difficult Problems.

By HARRY W. FRANTZ.

(Copyright 1937 by United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Possibility that President Roosevelt's enthusiasm for long-distance ocean cruises may take him to the Philippine Islands next autumn is being discussed in island circles here, although thus far without official confirmation.

This agitation, particularly among American-Philippine business men, has arisen despite the fact that Mr. Roosevelt, after his return from South America, suggested the rumors were due merely to the fact that marine charts had been studied while he was aboard the Indianapolis, for various possible cruises to be made later in his term.

The White House has rarely revealed, far in advance, the President's contemplated junkets. The United Press exclusively predicted his South American peace tour seven months before it was officially announced.

Visit May Be Asked.

Whatever may be the President's ultimate intention, it is believed here that an attempt will be made to convince him that the capital of the new Philippine commonwealth should be visited during his term in the White House, if not this year. The visit of President Manuel Quezon here in February may afford opportunity to crystallize possible plans for such a trip.

Former High Commissioner Frank Murphy, now governor of Michigan, is reported to have suggested to the President many months ago the desirability of a trip to Manila in 1936, but the President declined instead to attend the opening of the Pan-American peace conference at Buenos Aires. Gossip says that this did not eliminate the possibility of a future trip to Manila.

A tentative plan for a presidential trip to Manila reported to have been considered last year provided for a fast round-trip voyage from Pusan Sound to Manila, with stop en route only at Guam. The President heretofore has visited the territory of Hawaii during his presidency.

General Circumstances.

General circumstances which would lend logic to a visit to Manila are as follows:

(1) The President has regarded ocean cruises as a favorite method of vacationing, and the Philippines would be a logical destination for a pleasant trip. It could be made with a minimum of special preparation, since all ports of call would be under the American flag.

(2) President Roosevelt signed the Tydings-McDuffie act for Philippine autonomy as a commonwealth, with independence pledged in 1946, and therefore has a special interest in the islands and their people.

(3) The Tydings-McDuffie act left unsettled many difficult problems such as future trade relations and the retention of naval bases in the Philippines after independence, which would give a logical reason for personal observations by the chief executive.

(4) The Philippines have never been visited by a United States President during his term of office, although they have continually required and received the attention of the White House.

(5) The alternative ocean voyages available to the President might be less attractive than a trans-Pacific cruise. Trips to Europe brought popular disfavor to Woodrow Wilson; President Harding gave Alaska the honor of a presidential visit; and President Roosevelt already has made his how to the east coast of South America, although not yet to the west coast of that continent.

WPA recreation workers facing transfer to labor jobs will hold a protest meeting at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the skating rink at Grant park. Demands for reinstatement to their former jobs will be made at that time. Fifty of the workers have been ordered to the meeting at a gathering yesterday in the rink.

Atlanta police have been requested to look out for Winston C. Lee, 14, of Route No. 2, Franklin, Ga., who left his home last Monday and has not been heard from since. His father is R. Host Coker. The boy is 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighs about 135 pounds.

Dr. Charles C. Jarrell, presiding elder of the Atlanta district of the Methodist church, South, will preach tomorrow morning at Calvary Methodist church, Dr. Feltton Williams, pastor, will preach at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night.
